LIEUT. WOOD IS REPORTED PENNILESS

Son of Major General Spends Funds Made On Stocks In Paris Gayety

By FRANK E. MASON For International News Service. Copyright, 1925.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Lieutenant Osborne Cutler Wood has turned his back on the gay night life of Paris after a career as a spender and host that attracted attention even in the Montmartre.

The son of Major-General Leonard Wood was located in a small French town today by International News Service, after being missing from his quarters in the Clillon hotel for five days.

That Wood has spent most, if not all, of the money he made in two spectacular raids on Wall Street was indicated by Wood's friends. Wood's account with the American Express Co. was said to have a lien entered against it, preventing Wood from withdrawing any additional funds.

Nervous Breakdown

Wood has given up his suite at the Clillon, stored his baggage and retained a room only for his Chinese valet.

The reported intention of Wood's wife—now in the United States—to divorce him was said to have brought on a nervous breakdown. He was in bed for a week and his friends said he has been visibly depressed since.

Wood's decision to quit Parisian gayety was said to have been reached Monday. He departed from Paris, after confiding to a few friends that he was through with the "Montmartre crowd," with whom he has been traveling since his wife went to America.

2 Men Killed, 4 Injured In Oil Barge Explosion

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Two men were killed and four injured when an oil barge containing 75,000 gallons of crude oil exploded on the west bank of the Schuylkill river today. The dead: George Wolfgang, captain of the barge; Herman Grell, employed on a lighter, accompanying the barge. The explosion and fire that followed caused a loss estimated at $100,000.

Eight-Year-Old Girl Is Shot Dead By 'Cowboy'

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—Eight-year-old Martin Cuneo Jr., was shot and killed in his Somerville home this afternoon by John O'Leary, 7 years old. The boys, with four other Cuneo children, were playing "cowboy and Indian."

HUNT BANDITS

ROME, Feb. 21.—Cavalry was scouring the vicinity of Marianopolis, in Sicily today for a band of armed and mounted brigands who staged a daring raid upon a large farm there and fled after farm hands had slain one of their number.

Eight Hundred Riders Take Part In Big Bicycle Meet

Eight hundred riders and 1500 spectators were present at the Safety First demonstration staged this morning on the Harvard High school grounds by Fred St. Onge for the Cycle Trades of America. The plank-riding contest, the feature event of the meet, was won by Merle Stanb of Wilson Intermediate school, with a credit of 555 feet, traveling on a five-inch plank without slipping off. Donald Hankey was second with 525 feet.

John Thompson of Glendale Intermediate school won third prize, presented by J. F. Mathews, with 345 feet. The first prize was a handsome gold watch presented by the New Department Coaster Brake Co., and the second prize was a Black Beauty tire, presented by Marlett Brothers. Only eleven of the 500 entrants in the plank-riding contest were able to finish the 150 feet and many failed to go fifty feet.

Robert Moore of Glendale Boy Scouts, troop 15, was presented with a gold medal for being the nearest Boy Scout in uniform on a bicycle. A silver medal for second prize went to Theron Ramey of troop 12. Leslie Richards, troop 14, Wilson Intermediate school, won the bronze medal for third prize. The scooter race was won by Russell McCaughan. Robert Calkins was second, and Will Hanger third.

Edna Harvey of the Pacific school won the first prize, a gold wrist watch, presented by the Morrow Coaster Brake Co. of Elmira, N. Y., for the best-decorated bicycle. Her entry was in gold and white crepe paper.

Second prize, an electric lamp, presented by Marlett Brothers, went to Edna Paul of Glendale Intermediate school. Miss Paul was dressed as an old-fashioned girl, and her bicycle was decorated in rose and white. Charlotte Sturges, representing Peter Pan, won third prize, a Vitale tire, by J. F. Mathews. Vera Coker won fourth prize, a Black Beauty tire, by Marlett Brothers. Ward Kimball, representing Uncle Sam, won fifth prize, a pair of pedals, by J. F. Mathews, and Carl Johnson took sixth prize, a combination lock, by Marlett Brothers.

Wilson Intermediate school took the twelve-inch silver loving cup, presented by the Cycle Trades of America for the greatest number of riders from any one school with a grand total of 227 cyclists. Mr. St. Onge announced that this number was the largest assemblage from any one school ever present at a bicycle contest in the United States. Fully 1500 spectators jammed the stands and the sidewalks to see the safety demonstrations. Nearly sixty Boy Scouts were present in uniform.

Dirigible on Return Trip From Bermuda

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The navy dirigible Los Angeles left Hamilton, Bermuda, at 10:10 o'clock this morning on her return trip to Lakehurst, N. J., according to the naval radio despatches received at the navy department this afternoon.

Owing to bad weather at Bermuda, the big ship did not moor to the mast of the Patoka as planned, and after cruising about over the city for some hours, pointed her nose again over the Atlantic for the homeward trip.

ARMS PARLEY JOINED WITH DEBT

'Any Nation Building Subs Can Pay Debts' Is British Cry

By DAVID M. CHURCH For International News Service.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The disarmament question was dovetailed today with the problem of international debts by the British admiralty.

"Any nation that can build submarines can pay its debts," it was said.

France and Japan are reported to oppose any curtailment of submarine construction at any probable disarmament conference.

The admiralty is not entirely optimistic about another disarmament conference. It fears that such a conference might nullify the Washington treaty. The admiralty feels that the continental powers are NOT willing to give up submarines and that a conference would be to no purpose. It feels further that such a conference "might stir up trouble."

If a disarmament conference is to be held it should be held quickly, the admiralty pointed out, adding "before any settlement of international debts is made."

Ex-Kansas Governor Bound Over To Court

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 21.—Former Governor Jonathan M. Davis and former Banking Commissioner Carl J. Peterson were bound over to district court in $1000 bond at the conclusion of their preliminary hearing here this afternoon, on charges of conspiracy and soliciting a bribe.

MANILA, Feb. 21.—The death toll of the Corregidor island tram car crash today mounted to seven when Aberlino Lopez, a Filipino scout, died.

GOLDEN SUN'S RISE BELIES MORE RAIN

Southern California Rains Are Over, Fair Weather Now Predicted

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—A golden California sunrise today told Southern California the rainstorm was over in this section, and the weather man later verified this proclamation of nature by predicting that fair weather would prevail "tonight and tomorrow."

Before bidding goodbye to the last of the storm clouds, however, Colonel H. B. Hersey, in charge of the United States weather bureau here, totaled up the benefit to Los Angeles and vicinity from the showers of the last thirty-six hours by stating that 27 of an inch of rain had fallen here.

Season's Total

This brought the season's total to 3.57 inches, within .07 of an inch of doubling last year's total at this date, which was 2.82 inches. Nearly all sections of Southern California were showered with rain during the storm, which Colonel Hersey declared beat the average Southern California rainfall for this date higher than the average at the same date last year.

The rain was heavier in the mountain districts yesterday and the day before. In Ventura, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange averaged nearly an inch of an inch. Thunder and lightning accompanied the storm in the San Joaquin valley.

RAIN OVER STATE EXPECTED SUNDAY

Weather Man Predicts More Downpour Tomorrow To Increase Total

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—The third big rainstorm of this month is likely to continue tonight and tomorrow, the weather bureau said today.

The rainfall in California was general all over the state. Mount Wilson, in Southern California, reported the heaviest downpour for the past 24 hours with 1.01 inches. Eureka, one of the wettest spots in the state, had .56 and San Francisco .51 inch. Other 24-hour reports included San Jose .08; Santa Barbara .08; Fresno .36; Los Angeles .14; San Bernardino .24 and San Diego .06.

Seasonal figures to date indicate in all parts of the state nearly double and in some cases more than double the amount of rain that had fallen at this time last year. Fresno, for instance, has 5.15 inches to date, against 1.31 inches at this time last year. Los Angeles has 3.50 inches against 1.32 at this time last year. The continuance of the present storm is expected to materially increase the rainfall figures.

Founder of Klan Is Injured In Accident

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Feb. 21.—Colonel William Joseph Simmons, founder and formerly imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan and Captain Morris Moore, former federal prohibition agent in Texas, were injured so badly in an automobile wreck near here today that neither is expected to recover.

Colonel Simmons suffered a punctured lung, both collar bones were broken, several ribs fractured and deep cuts about the face and hands. Captain Moore's neck was broken.

Rumbles of Trade War Heard, Senator Claims

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Rumbles of a threatened trade war between the South and West were heard again in the Senate today when Senator Smith, Democrat of South Carolina, sounded a warning that the South was prepared to engage in a commercial fight with the West.

Smith declared the South would accept the "passage of contemplated legislation in several western states, proposing prohibitive taxes on cottonseed products" as a declaration of trade war.

Another Bombing Test Is Rejected By House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The House aircraft committee this afternoon, in secret session, rejected a resolution requesting President Coolidge to direct the war and navy departments to hold another bombing test to determine the efficacy of aircraft upon battleships. Administration members opposed the resolution.

ROME, Feb. 21.—Reports of the Bulgarian trouble reaching Rome from Sofia today stated that a huge quantity of bombs were found in the palace cells just before a big ball began.

Town Without Tailor Again After Blaze

WEAVERVILLE, Cal., Feb. 21.—Charles G. Schu will spend from one to fourteen years in San Quentin because a fire in his tailor shop caused a $10,000 loss Sunday morning.

Over a year ago Schu was convicted on a charge of issuing bad checks. As Weavererville needed a tailor he was released on probation, one condition being that he could not leave town. The fire of Sunday originated in his shop. He is alleged to have been drunk and was brought before the superior court and his probation revoked. Weavererville is again without a tailor.

SUFFRAGE BILL INTRODUCED IN JAPAN

Disorders Mark Opening of Diet In Tokio; Claim Old Customs Hit

By LUTHER A. HUSTON For International News Service.

TOKIO, Feb. 21.—Unprecedented scenes attended the introduction in the diet today of the universal manhood suffrage bill.

A cordon of police numbering 700 surrounded the diet building, fearing raids by massed bands of the bill's opponents who were assembled in a nearby park ready to storm the diet if the occasion offered.

Extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent the admission of unauthorized persons to the diet building in order to protect the suffrage supporters.

His Old Custom

Both supporters and opponents of the bill held mass meetings and paraded, waving flags and distributing hand bills to the thousands who packed the streets surrounding the diet. Due to the extreme effectiveness of the policing no violence was reported.

Suffrage opponents claim the measure is a disruptive of the ancient Japanese family system which is typified by the imperial family.

Viscount Kato and other members of the government addressed the diet supporting the measure while leaders of the Seiyuhon party led the opposition.

Despite the violent protests of the opponents of the bill its passage is regarded as certain.

Agents Use Dynamite To Destroy Big Still

SEATTLE, Feb. 21.—Federal prohibition agents brought dynamite into play today to destroy the biggest illicit distillery discovered in the northwest since the dawn of prohibition. The still, a massive concrete affair with a capacity of 32,000 gallons, was found last night by a raiding party on a dairy farm owned by Henry Maggiori, fifteen miles south of Seattle. The distillery is easily the most elaborate ever uncovered in this section of the country, being valued at more than $15,000 and comprising twenty-two steel vats of 1,000 gallon capacity each; five 2,000-gallon wooden vats, and more than twenty fuel oil tanks.

ACADEMY BURNS

LEWISBURG, W. Va., Feb. 21.—The picturesque Queen Briar military academy here was reduced to a mass of smoldering ruins by fire that caused damage approximating a quarter of a million dollars early today. While the flames raged with an intensity that baffled the efforts of fire fighters, 200 students calmly marched from the dormitory to safety and no one was believed to have been injured.

ASK COOPERATION

LONDON, Feb. 21.—France will be urged to co-operate with England to induce President Coolidge to call a disarmament conference, it was said today in diplomatic circles when the announcement was made that Austin Chamberlain, British secretary of foreign affairs, would depart on March 9 for Geneva.

GLORIA SWANSON RECOVERING IN PARIS

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Gloria Swanson was showing steady improvement this afternoon, according to her physician, Dr. Vaudecal. It was his opinion that her recovery from the operation necessary on the eve of her sailing for America Wednesday morning would be speedy.

PLAN EXPERIMENTAL STATION IN STATE

OAKLAND EDUCATOR GIVEN PRISON TERM

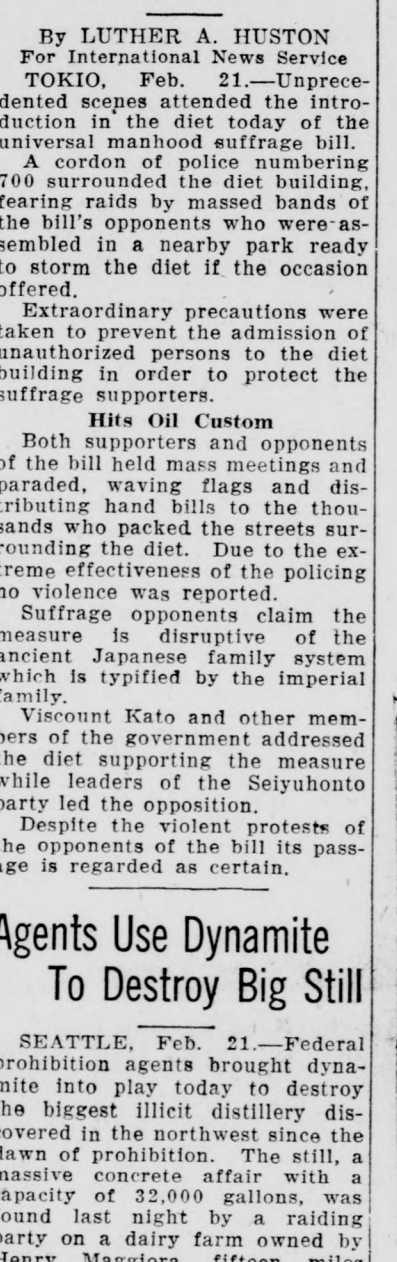

OAKLAND, Feb. 21.—Clyde Blanchard, former business manager for the Berkeley board of education, and a leader in Berkeley church circles, was sentenced to San Quentin penitentiary today for a term of from one to ten years, on conviction of embezzling $12,500 in school funds.

ROUND-WORLD FLYERS TO RECEIVE MEDALS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The eight American aviators who composed the round-the-world flight squadron were given a material reward today by Congress. A bill already passed by the House was approved by the Senate, conferring promotions and distinguished service medals on the flyers.

'Nick' Longworth Probable Choice For House Speaker

New picture of NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, who probably will be the next speaker of the House of Representatives. Inset, an informal picture of his wife, the former Alice Roosevelt and recently the mother of a baby daughter, their first child after nineteen years of married life.

By ROBERT T. SMALL

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Representative Nicholas Longworth, pater familias, after a battle with old Dr. Stork in Chicago, is back in Washington preparing for his further battle for the speakership of the House of Representatives. Reporting mother and child as doing well, Mr. Longworth declared there was hope of saving the father.

As a matter of fact, it looked today as if Dr. Stork had turned the tide definitely in favor of Mr. Longworth for the speakership, and his friends greeted him with a whoop. They claim the enemy, represented by Representative Martin Madden of Illinois, is on the run. Of course, Mr. Madden admits nothing of the sort and says the Longworth celebration, justified by the events at Chicago, is a bit premature as to the results of the House caucus on the "fateful 27th of this month."

There still is much mystery in Washington concerning the reported offer from the Madden camp that, if Mr. Longworth would withdraw from the race this year, he could have the speakership unopposed two years hence. Mr. Madden denounced the move as entirely unauthorized, as he has no intention of retiring from Congress at any early date, and had no ambition to be a one-term speaker.

It is not surprising, however, that such an offer, bona fide or otherwise, should come Mr. Longworth's way. Somebody is always trying to take the joy out of life for him. Perhaps now that he has become a proud father, things will change. But, in the past, there have been numerous efforts to have Nick step aside for somebody else.

Almost—Not Quite

In 1920, for instance, Nick was all set to succeed Warren Harding in the Senate. He was just waiting word from the Chicago convention in order to file his papers for the Republican nomination. As the time-limit was about to expire, however, Senator Harding got "cold feet" on the promises that were being made to him in that famous "back-room" conference forecast by Harry Daugherty and decided to play safe by remaining in the senatorial contest. This eliminated Nick, who felt confident he could defeat Frank B. Willis for the nomination. Next day came the Harding nomination. Pretty soon came the Willis nomination. And Nick was doing business as usual by running for Congress from Cincinnati.

Nick has had similar experience along other lines, but none that had quite so serious an effect upon his career. As president

MAIN PASSAGE FILLED AS VICTIMS SOUGHT

Death Toll of Disaster is Placed at Fifty-One; Seventeen Found

SULLIVAN, Ind., Feb. 21.—A big cave-in in the main entry of the City Coal Co.'s mine occurred just before 8 o'clock today, further impeding the getting out of bodies of those trapped by an explosion in the mine yesterday.

Wild rumors of fire having started were circulated freely at this time, but mine officials denied that any such horror has been added.

Rescue workers this morning brought up the body of Harry Anderson, mine superintendent, the seventeenth to be recovered from the mine wrecked yesterday by an explosion, and reported that progress toward recovering the bodies of the other thirty-four miners entombed in Indiana's greatest mine disaster had been speeded up.

Fifty-one Dead

The total death list for the gas explosion yesterday was set at fifty-one today. Seventy men have been rescued.

Rescuers are finding it difficult to work in the shafts for a few moments at a time, even with the aid of gas masks. Though it was expected that several bodies would be removed today, it was said shortly before noon that the last of the thirty-four would not be taken out before tomorrow night, at the earliest.

Had No Protection

According to those who have been down in the pit since the explosion, all the men in that part of the mine affected by the explosion have been killed. No stragglers have come out of the wrecked part of the mine. The men had nothing with which to protect themselves from the deadly gases that formed after the explosion. About 120 men were working in the mine at the time of the explosion.

The explosion occurred in what was known as the third and fourth north entries, off the main east entry. It is believed to have been caused by a spark from an electric motor lighting gas and thus setting off accumulated dust in the workings of the mine.

Charge Plot To Put Ruler In Manchuria

PEKING, Feb. 21.—The ultimate restoration of the young ex-Manchu emperor Hsuan Tung in Manchuria, which will then be severed from the Chinese republic and made a second Korea, is a plot charged today against the Japanese by the Chinese newspaper Ching Pao.

The Ching Pao alleges that the first move is to have the young ruler go to Japan and states that Hsuan Tung is leaving his refuge in the Japanese legation here for Japan to be housed in a palace awaiting the Manchurian coup d'etat.

W. E. Evans Makes Statement In Reply To Comedy Column

The comedy column in the local insert of The Los Angeles Express yesterday charged that Congressman W. F. Lineberger and W. E. Evans had, months ago, entered into a combine, the alleged "plot" being that the former was to run for the United States Senate and the latter was to run for the House of Representatives. The comedy column also pretended to see another deep, dark "plot." It tried to intimate that Mr. Evans had entered into some sort of a combine with United States Senator Hiram Johnson and W. R. Hearst, the newspaper publisher.

When the attention of Mr. Evans was called to the "funny stuff" in the local insert, he declared:

"The thought that I would enter such a combine is so foolish that it is funny. The people of this county know pretty well where I stand as a Republican. In the first place, I have made no announcement as a candidate for Congress, although I am being urged every day to do so by people from all parts of the Ninth district.

SCHOOL CHILDREN STAGE PAGEANT

Glendale Intermediates Put On Tableau Under
P.-T. A. Direction

Commemorating the birthday anniversary of the "Father of Our Country," a patriotic pageant was staged last night at Glendale Intermediate school, under the auspices of the Glendale Avenue Parent-Teacher association. The auditorium was filled with parents of the pupils taking part and members and friends of the P.-T. A.

Leading episodes in American history were pictured in the program of tableaux, song and story, folk dances and striking scenes as recorded in history as taught in the public schools. Costuming for the different periods was carried out with especial care and the pageant pictured faithfully the many colorful scenes of the coming of Columbus, first colonies, colonial days and slavery period. The prologue was given by Liberty, Elizabeth Stull, and Justice, Jean Height; reading of "Columbus" (Joaquin Miller), by Elizabeth Stull; "The First American" pictured the sailing of Columbus, impersonated by Howard Crizer; mate, Virgil Davis; crew, Ardel McLaughlin, John Thompson, Edw. Moore, George Burton.

Colonial Episode

Episode two, the Colonies, in four parts included, Indian women, Pearl Rittenhouse, Grace Jackson, Eloise Knaus; Indian boys, Walter Berg, Donald Fox; warriors, Alejandro Madrid, J. B. Patterson, Howard Chittenden, Julian Zuniga, Virgil Todd, Newbre Moore; Powhatan, Obed Lucas, Pocahontas, Virginia Lloyd, Captain John Smith, Kenneth Beales; Pilgrims, Mary Elizabeth Christopher, Margaret Colquhoun, Frances Dundas, Dorothy Gardner, Rosemary Gilhuly, Ray Gordon, Louise Hill, Muriel Marlott, Mary Nisbit, Carol Smith, Gertrude Springer, Naomi Van Bibber, Mary Welch, Sam Blake, Gordon Cook, Sol Grabiner, LeRoy Shugart, Robert Stadler, Condon Lovett, Robert Angelica, Fern Ehrenhart, William Russell, Fredrick Laughray.

New Amsterdam showed pupils wearing quaint Dutch costumes in a folk dance including Jane Green, Sally Heasley, Muriel Marlott, Mary Vandiver, Roy Marquis, Sanders Russell, Stanton Beggs, Charles Brown. Signers of the Declaration of Independence were John Hancock, Kermit Swanson; Charles Thompson, Curtis McPaden; Benjamin Harrison, Walter Cash; Thomas Jefferson, Fredrick Dundas; Benjamin Franklin, Arthur Hoffman; John Dickinson, Theodore Hirsch; George Read, Edwin Woodford; Erwin Rutledge, Blair Bartlett; Lyman Hall, Dustin Smith; Thomas Willings, Peyton Baer; Samuel Adams, Charles Hirt; John Adams, George Okey; Roger Sherman, Russell Andrews. The bells of Mt. Vernon, with George Washington characterized by Mark Bell were impersonated.

Penn Colonies
Pennsylvania colonies were called to mind by Corabel Boyle, Idamea Campbell, Edith Carmack, Barbara Clay, Mona Frederickson, Maxine George, Gladys Higgs, Alice Hitchcock, Blanche Irwin, Dorothy Leash, Marjorie Packard, Ruth Scherer, Eldred Thompson, Miriam Wallace.

"The Spirit of '76," pictured a Colonial party, and dancing of the minuet. The characters were in costumes of Colonial days. The duet was sung by Mary Jo Baird and Charles Hirt. The dancers were Virginia Wynne, Katherine Doane, Barbary Clay, Marjorie Packard, Ethel Jean Fleckman.

Humane Society Plans Larger Animals' Home

Work is to start very soon on enlarging the kennels of Glendale Humane society, 717 West Ivy street, it was announced at the meeting last night at the Chamber of Commerce building. Reports from activity at the kennels showed that many unfortunate animals are being cared for. It was also announced that many valuable pets lost by their owners have been restored to their homes after being cared for at the kennels. Glendale people are asked to call Glendale 1118-J if they desire to reach the caretaker of the kennels.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

John Brown, the evangelist, has a bit of information worth remembering. Arkansas is the only state mentioned in the Bible. Noah, according to Brown "looked out of the ark and saw."

The evangelist told that yarn at the Rotary club here. Perhaps he has passed it on to many audiences. At any rate, the writer heard it when John Brown talked to the high school student body in 1913. And we remembered it.

If you don't remember what Brown says, it is your own fault. He uses repetition for emphasis. He drives his point home with synonyms and similes. Not only that, he believes what he says, and makes others believe the same. Go over to his tabernacle at Broadway and Kenwood streets some night and see if he doesn't put across his message 100 per cent.

Water conservation is a great California problem. Driving north through the state one finds acres inundated by overflowed rivers which go rushing to the sea with a volume of water that should be conserved for irrigation.

Conservation of these rivers and their runoff is vital to the prosperity of California. But not for reclamation. And not for those who do not need water.

It has recently been learned that in Orange county many acres of citrus groves have been irrigated too much. The roots of the trees were tapping water, yet enthusiastic orchardists had been pouring on a surface supply to evaporate.

Los Angeles has just discovered the entire San Fernando valley is an underground reservoir. And springs are so numerous in Los Angeles they are actually a problem in building!

Water is a good subject for research. The Sacramento river needs taming, according to residents of the capital city. It literally runs over the countryside during flood season. Perhaps by aqueducts south of the flow could be sent to the San Joaquin valley for storage. That would be very expensive, but there is a day coming, this writer believes, when the Marshall plan of linking all irrigation systems in the state, will become a reality.

California must advertise its agricultural resources before the utmost development is made possible. People with vision and brain and brawn must be brought here to supplement the pioneer stock. An appeal to the younger farmers of the world at large should be made.

Chinese, Japanese, Armenians and Italians have built fortunes in the inland empires of California. And they are not the competition you would believe, either. Most of them today are living better than many native born sons of the west.

ARTIST LECTURES BEFORE ART CLUB

Ralph Holmes In Humorous
Talk Before Members
At Van Grove's

The second meeting of the Glendale Art association, held in its new quarters in the Van Grove studio on North Brand boulevard, last night, was well attended. Ralph Holmes, eastern artist, formerly an instructor at the Chicago Art institute, lectured. He gave a humorous talk, reminiscent of student days at the institute, and recalled many famous artists whom he met. He touched on the matter of destroying street trees and the work that has before the artists in helping to preserve them.

His delightful informal talk was supplemented by a few words from John W. Cotton, whose student days were spent under the same influences, and who had known Mr. Holmes during those years. Music numbers were furnished by the Knabe Ampico.

Mrs. Roy B. Ballagh conducted a short business meeting, announcing that the tickets for the coming anniversary banquet were practically all sold, and very few reservations could still be made. She announced that the speaker at the next Friday night meeting would be Mrs. J. Kirke Smith of University of Southern California. An exhibit of paintings by J. Stephen Ward, now a resident of the city, is now hung in the Van Grove studio. Mr. and Mrs. Ward have become members of the association, and were present at last night's meeting.

Wily J. Phillips Is W. C. T. U. Speaker

Wiley J. Phillips, editor and publisher of the "California Voice," spoke yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. held in the home of Mrs. David Francy, 429 West California avenue, on "The Bible in the Public School." Mrs. L. E. Richardson had charge of the program and Mrs. C. W. Bacon, president, directed the meeting. The prayer service which was held for the John Brown meeting was conducted by Mrs. Sutherland. Mrs. J. H. Dougherty, superintendent of scientific temperance instruction, reported on the essay work. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. The union meets with Mrs. J. H. Dougherty at 700 East Harvard street on March 6.

Woman Escapes Injury When Struck By Car

Miss Wilma Hunt, daughter of Mrs. Jessie H. Hunt of 459 West Maple street, narrowly escaped serious injury last night, when she was struck by an automobile, at Central avenue and Maple street. The car was driven by Lavel H. De Ronde of 908 Delmar street, Pasadena. The accident happened at 7 o'clock. Noll E. Scott of 4304 Laclede avenue, Los Angeles, who was accompanying Miss Hunt, was also struck by the car. Neither received any broken bones.

They were taken to the Glendale hospital, treated for minor bruises and taken home according to reports filed at Glendale police headquarters. Mr. De Ronde failed to see them, owing to rain, he stated. The couple were crossing Central avenue from west to east when the accident happened.

Suspect In Reckless Driving Case Is Held

Lloyd Hendricks of 1720 Sycamore Canyon road, arrested last night on a reckless-driving charge, was arraigned this morning before Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court and his trial set for 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, March 3. He is held on $300 bail.

John Muchow of 528 North Glendale avenue identified as his a bicycle held at police headquarters, and the wheel was turned over to him. Several other bicycles are still being held for identification, states Desk Sergeant J. D. Cole.

Caravan Of Cars Take Scots To San Diego

IMPROVE STREETS IN ATWATER PARK

Manor Place Graded to Render It More
Passable and Ruts Removed; Plan
New Bakery Shop In District

Manor place in the Atwater district, connecting the east portion of the tract with San Fernando road, has just been improved and graded by the Los Angeles street department in order to render the road more passable to the large number of motorists traveling to Los Angeles and Glendale by way of San Fernando road.

The ruts and bad places have been removed the whole length of the street and the thoroughfare rolled.

New Bakery Planned

Announcement was made today that L. C. Holmes, bakery owner, will establish a bakery at 3204 Glendale boulevard in the recently completed Shugart building. A five-year lease was signed by Mr. Holmes yesterday. Pictures will be installed and operation of the bakery started as soon as possible. The new drug store of Elgin & Glezen which occupies the corner store room in the Shugart building was formally opened for business today.

Card Party Saturday

A card party will be given at the home of Mrs. E. V. Bacon, 3302 Revere avenue, Saturday night, February 28. Five hundred and bridge will be played. The affair will be under the auspices of the Atwater Parent-Teacher association and proceeds will go to the P.-T. A. fund. All residents of the district are invited.

Old Newspaper Drive

Children at the Atwater school will conduct an old newspaper drive on Thursday, February 26. A request was made today by Miss Rosalind Gates, principal of the school, that all old newspapers and magazines be gotten together so that they can be easily collected by the children. All persons with newspapers to give should notify Miss Gates.

Buy New Bungalow

Mr. and Mrs. Archie A. Clark of Los Angeles have purchased the new five-room stucco bungalow at 3352 Larga avenue from R. V. Doreweller, and will move to the Atwater district at once. The sale was announced by H. V. Briggs

Acacia

R. Ernest Tucker, superintendent of Community Service, gave a talk on "Playgrounds and Playground Equipment" at the meeting yesterday afternoon of Acacia Mother's club, Parent-Teacher association. Several selections were sung by the Girls' Glee club of Broadway High school under the direction of Mrs. Charles Parker. The minutes were given in costume by Marjorie Temple, Marjorie Hart, Leona Hunt and Betty Mabry. During the social hour refreshments were served. Mrs. R. N. Stryker, president, directed the business meeting. Plans were made for a hard time party and box social, at the Knights of Columbus clubhouse 330 East Lomita avenue, March 13. Mrs. L. D. Torrey, was appointed general chairman for the affair. Leaders in the contest for selling cook books which were recently published by the association gave favorable reports. One thousand books were published and approximately one-half of that number has been sold. Mrs. Arthur Wilson acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Harry Levey.

Wilson

"Fathers' Night" will be held Monday night by Wilson Parent-Teacher association with a program beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Arthur Franklin, president, will preside, and George Carr will be the speaker, speaking on the subject, "The Relation of the Home to the School." Patrons of the school are invited to attend.

Elder J. L. McElhany of 1412 East California avenue, president of the Pacific Union conference of the Seventh-Day Adventist denomination, will leave Monday with Elder David Voth street, secretary-treasurer, to attend the closing sessions of the Bookmen's convention, held at the headquarters of the Pacific Press Publishing association, at Mountain View, near San Diego.

President McElhany and Secretary Emerson of the Pacific Union conference will return to Glendale with Elder David Voth the latter part of the week. As home missionary secretary of the local conference, Elder Voth has been attending all the sessions of the Bookmen's convention.

Eagle Rock Attending Evangelistic Services

Large crowds have been attending the evangelistic services at the Eagle Rock Seventh-Day Adventist church, 2239 Merton avenue. Evangelists J. W. McComas and Paul O. Campbell of Chicago completed their meetings in Pasadena, and have been giving a series of lectures in Eagle Rock. Lectures are given every night except Monday and Saturday nights. The song service begins at 7:30 o'clock.

Regional Director Of Girl Scouts Lectures

Miss Vaal Stark, regional director for Girl Scouts of Southern California, was speaker last night at the conference of Girl Scout leaders of Glendale and Burbank councils at Harvard High school. Mrs. F. A. Beach, president of Glendale council, presided, introducing Miss Stark. The speaker told of councils and committees and their duties and of Girl Scout publicity. She gave a description of girls' activities at Camp Chaparral in the Big Basin. This afternoon a Girl Scout rally was held at Harvard High school, with Miss Stark as honored guest. The various Glendale and Burbank troops presented the program.

New Yorker Is Impressed by Evening News

Attractions of Glendale as a prospering city, ideal for business enterprise and happiness of home life, were so convincingly pictured in the New Year's edition of The Glendale Evening News mailed to E. H. Odell of 6 Ballantyne Brae, Utica, New York, by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, that he has sent for a six months' subscription to The News. With his subscription he writes to the Chamber of Commerce: "I thank you for your kindness in mailing me The Glendale Evening News, printed Thursday, January 1, 1925. I have been so impressed with your city after reading the paper that I am going to ask you to send me the paper for six months. One glance at this prosperous growing city's paper has convinced me I would like to be with you in Glendale."

Unique Features Plan For 'Ye Country Fair'

Sargent, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and a committee of the American Federation of Labor, consisting of Secretary Frank A. Morrison, Martin F. Ryan and J. P. Noonan, to adjust the differences between the mine workers and engineers in the engineers' coal mines in the New River district of West Virginia.

SCOTS ENTERTAIN MASONIC FRIENDS

'Ladies' Night' At Temple
With Dancing Program
Proves Popular

The Scots of local pyramid, No. 39, entertained the Masons of Glendale and their friends last night at the Masonic temple, 232 South Brand boulevard. It was "Ladies' Night" and there was dancing to the melodious strains of Roy Bidlecom's popular orchestra. Many of the costumes that will be seen next Friday and Saturday nights at the big '49 party made their first appearance last night. There were 100 couples present.

Dancing started at 8 o'clock and continued until a late hour. Light refreshments were served buffet style. Toparch R. E. Johnston of the local pyramid had arranged a radio program upstairs, for those who did not care to dance. The receiving set that will be offered as a prize at the '49 party was used and a number of stations were snatched off the air.

Parliamentary Club Is Federation Member

Bearing the personal signature of Mrs. John G. Sherman, president of General Federation of Women's clubs, the certificate of registration in the General Federation was received yesterday at the meeting of the Parliamentary Law club of Glendale at the public library. Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, president and instructor of the club, states that the club is growing rapidly. Plans are being made for a radio tea March 6 at the home of Mrs. Dean Phillips. Proceeds will go to the club's fund for the Y. M. C. A. building project.

LOVE NEVER—

Keeps any day book, journal or ledger.
Asks no more than it is willing to give.
Consents to ravage the honor of its beloved.
Takes pleasure in homage done from a sense of duty.
Arrays itself in the garments of lust.
Can survive persistent neglect.
Understands why it is called blind.

Father Of Our Country

WE HONOR WASHINGTON

It is a hopeful sign that we Americans remember those who have rendered us service as a nation, and that tomorrow we pause to do honor to our first president, the father of our country and the hero of the American revolution, on the 133rd anniversary of his birth—126 years after his death.

George Washington is conceded to have been a great man, and we find in literature and history many tributes lavished upon him by his contemporaries as well as by men of these later years who can see still more clearly through the microscope of the passing years what vision, what judgment and what loyalty he demonstrated in those trying times when our nation was born.

Washington is famed for the excellence of his personal character, his piety, his high-mindedness and his temperance; for his ability as a soldier, his prudence and the sublime patriotism that impelled him to suffer hardships with his soldiers; for his wisdom as a statesman, his penetrating vision, his dignity, his sound judgment and his justness. It is said of him that he conquered the hearts of his countrymen as truly as he did his country's foes.

Our nation's capital is named for Washington, the monument that bears his name is one of the finest of the kind in the world, and his home and his tomb at Mt. Vernon on the Potomac river are carefully preserved and are a national shrine and the Mecca for true patriots.

But we can honor Washington still more by keeping alive those principles of living which he deemed necessary. Washington's words in regard to the sanctity of law and the need of religion are just as significant today as when he uttered them. Of respect for law, he said:

"Respect for the authority of the government, compliance with its laws, acquiescence in its measures, are duties enjoined by the fundamental maxims of true liberty. The basis of our political systems is the right of the people to make and to alter their constitutions of government. But the constitution which at any time exists, till changed by an explicit and authentic act of the people, is sacredly obligatory upon all. The very idea of the power and right of the people to establish government, presupposes the duty of every individual to obey the established government."

And speaking of morals and religion, Washington said: "Of all the dispositions and habits, which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. . . . Let it simply be asked, where is the security for property, for reputation, for life, if the sense of religious obligation desert the oaths, which are the instruments of investigation in courts of justice? And let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principles."

The Senate has just had a French claim 120 years old presented to it. The Senates of long ago must have worked with about the same speed as they do today.

And now at last there is a logical explanation for wearing "summer furs." An Arctic explorer says the Eskimos wear furs to keep off the mosquitoes.

A hick town is a place where if the neighbors see a light in your home after 9 o'clock they think your house is afire.

The world isn't all bad. We haven't yet seen a suggestive cross-word puzzle.

THE CHERRY TREE MORAL—Still There For Those Who Care To Use It

The Best Soldier in the War

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Major-General Robert L. Bullard is an American soldier.

Notwithstanding the fact that he fought the Germans in the late war, he now states that in his opinion one German was equal to three Allied soldiers in fighting capacity.

This was because of his discipline. The Allied soldiers were individualists. With them it was every man for himself, while the German was capable of co-operating with the machine much better.

General Bullard is a West Point man, and not given to slopping over. He has had much to do with the training of men for soldiers. He blames the United States for its lack of discipline in its colleges.

Other officers of the army do not agree with him, and think that the question as to who is the best soldier is an open one.

It is refreshing to note, however, that a man can give this generous tribute to his enemy, even though he fought them.

Now that the war is over, we are beginning to realize that the Germans were actuated by much the same motives as ourselves. They were patriots, fighting for their country, and although we may think they were mistaken, they probably thought the same thing about us.

One of the hardest lessons to learn in life is that a man may think differently from us, and may even be ready to fight for his opinions, or to die for them, and be just as sincere as we are.

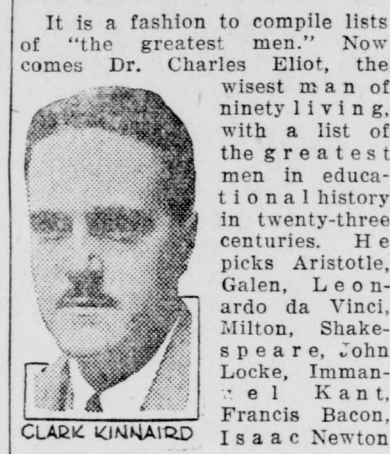

It detracts nothing from the justice of our cause, if it is just, to be generous to our enemies. It is a sign of narrowness of mind to discount all of their motives.

We know that the Germans were brave, that they were disciplined, and that they were patriotic. It is very difficult for a man who is a private in the German army to criticize the actions of his superiors or of his country. In deed, when a man's country takes a certain action, he must usually go with it, or he must call himself a traitor. Doubtless there were men in the German army who never saw the justice of the war in the first place, as there were men in our army who were opposed to it.

But as a rule they all made good, and it is pleasant now to find an American patriot like General Bullard paying due tribute to the enemy. Copyright 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

CLARK KINNARD

It is a fashion to compile lists of "the greatest men." Now comes Dr. Charles Elliot, the wisest man of ninety living, with a list of the greatest men in educational history in twenty-three centuries. He picks Aristotle, Galen, Leonardo da Vinci, Milton, Shakespeare, John Locke, Immanuel Kant, Francis Bacon, Isaac Newton and Emerson.

These men are great because they make men think. They have released millions of minds from bondage. But they cannot be called the greatest.

The Rev. John Haynes Holmes, New York clergyman, declares Mahatma Gandhi is the greatest man in the world. Gandhi is a preacher. The men who make the world go around in our time are not preachers, but the Doers. Gandhi cannot be called the greatest man in a world in which such men as Edison are living and working.

It is interesting to recall that Emerson, listed by Dr. Elliot as one of the greatest men who wrote:

"I admire great men of all classes, those who stand for facts, and for thoughts: I like rough and smooth, 'Scourges of God,' and 'Darlings' of the human race. I like the first Caesar; and Charles V. of Spain; and Charles XII. of Sweden; Richard Plantagenet; and Bonaparte, in France.

"I applaud a sufficient man, an officer equal to his office; captains, ministers, senators.

"I like a master, standing firm on legs of iron; well-born, rich, handsome, eloquent, loaded with advantages, drawing all men by fascination into tributaries and supporters of his power.

"Sword and staff, or talents sword-like and staff-like, carry on the work of the world.

"But I find him greater, when he can abolish himself, and all heroes, by letting in this element of reason, irrespective of persons; this sublimity and irresistible upward force, into our thought, destroying individualism; the power so great, that the potentate is nothing. Then he is a monarch, who gives a constitution to his people; a pontiff, who preaches the equality of souls, and releases his servants from their barbarous homages; an emperor, who can spare his empire."

It is to be noted that great geniuses have the shortest biographies. Their life story is their work.

It is natural to believe in great men. All mythology opens with demigods, and the circumstance is high and poetic; that is, their genius is paramount.

"Nature seems to exist for the excellent," Emerson observed. "The world is upheld by the veracity of good men; they make the earth wholesome. They who lived with them found life glad and nutritious. Life is sweet and tolerable only in our belief in such society and actually, or ideally, we manage to live with our superiors. We call our children and our lands by their names. Their names are wrought into the verbs of language, their works and offices are in our houses, and every circumstance of the days recalls an anecdote of them."

Who's Who

At the age of 40, Walter S. Gifford becomes executive head of the largest public utility corporation in the world, as industrial classifications go. The corporation, the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has more than $2,000,000,000 worth of assets and serves approximately 16,000,000 telephone subscribers.

Gifford was elected recently to succeed Harry R. Tayer, who becomes chairman of the board of the A. T. and T. Co.

The new head has been serving as executive vice-president for two years.

Gifford is probably the youngest man ever picked for a similar position, and in salary will rank with the highest paid industrial executives in this country.

Born in Salem, Mass., on January 10, 1885, he was graduated from Harvard in 1905 with an A. B. degree and almost immediately secured an appointment as assistant secretary and treasurer of the Western Electric Co., which is closely affiliated with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

When this country entered the war he became, at 32, supervising director of the committee on industrial preparedness of the national consulting board.

PLEATS FASHIONABLE

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The vogue for pleats has even reached the hats. The newest sport head coverings are pleated in the back so that they may be pulled on and resist any breeze to dislodge them. These hats are felt, extremely light and so supple that they may be stuffed into a sweater pocket if desired.

Horoscope

Contrary planetary influences are strong today, according to astrology. While Venus and Jupiter are in benefic aspect, Mars and Saturn are strongly adverse.

There is a promising sign for women who are engaged in business, especially if they are connected with banking or any line of manufacturing.

Many theatrical enterprises are to benefit just at this time, but there is a threatening sign indicating disappointments in the early spring productions.

This should be a lucky wedding day in which men may expect to gain much devotion from their wives.

They who become engaged under this direction of the stars may count on constancy both before and after marriage.

Jupiter today gives encouragement to all who make big plans. The stars encourage high ambitions.

Mars is in a place rather threatening to peace and harmony among men entrusted to a rule making for exciting scenes that may be disturbing to the president.

This is not an auspicious planetary government for industry and there may be labor difficulties brewing which will be troublesome in the spring.

More and more progressive ideas are to shove aside those of the past and for this reason all old leaders may expect soon to be superseded.

This is not a favorable day for entrusting important missions to any envoy and may bring serious reversals of plans.

Farmers again may expect weather conditions that threaten losses and market prices are due to fluctuate.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have a trying year in business matters, but they have the augury of success. The young will have romances in which difficulties arise.

Children born on this day probably will be fond of all the good things of life and able to obtain them. These subjects of Pisces are often headstrong and determined, but endowed with fine qualities.

Today's Poem

MY LUVE'S LIKE A RED, RED ROSE

O my Luve's like a red, red rose
That's newly sprung in June;
O my Luve's like the melody
That's sweetly played in tune.

As fair art thou, my bonnie lass,
So deep in luv am I,
And I will love thee still, my dear,
Till a' the seas gang dry;

Till a' the seas gang dry, my dear,
And the rocks melt with the sun;
I will love thee still, my dear,
While the sands o' life shall run.

And fare thee well, my only Luve!
And fare thee well awhile!
And I will come again, my Luve,
Tho' it were ten thousand mile.

CARRIER TUBE TO BE READY NEXT FALL

Pacific Electric Tunnel Is 95 Per Cent Complete At Present Time

By CAL FISHER
For Southland News Service
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—The Glendale-Hollywood-San Fernando valley tube of the Pacific Electric railway will be ready for use by October 15, it is predicted by Pacific Electric authorities, and it is interesting to note that the actual tunnel construction today is 95 percent complete!

Of the mile-long bore, but 270 feet of earth now separate the workmen from the planned excavations of the Subway Terminal building, a four million dollar structure to rise on the site of the present Hill street station. It is that project which will delay the use of the tunnel, or it might be better said that the tunnel will speed the completion of the subway terminal building.

Demolition of adjacent property, including the building housing the Pacific Electric club, started this week preparatory to accommodating the western division traffic temporarily while the Hill street station site is being transformed into a limit height skyscraper, the basement and first floor to be used by the Pacific Electric.

Los Angeles Capital
The building has been financed by a group of Los Angeles capitalists and plans have been approved by New York subway engineers, as well as local architects. It will tower thirteen stories above the ground with an extra deep basement which in time will serve as terminal for several subways, it is planned.

According to schedule, the base-

MARKET MAN BACK AT FORMER STAND

Walter H. Melhuish Returns To Old Stand At Sunshine Store

Walter H. Melhuish, who some time ago sold his interest in the meat department of the Sunshine Market, corner of West Wilson and Orange street, now is back at the old stand. In coming back to the Sunshine Market Mr. Melhuish says:

"It sure seems good to be back in business in Glendale and especially at the old stand. I have roamed considerable a round Southern California since I sold out but I have yet to find a city of Glendale's size where prospects are so bright."

Mr. Melhuish is determined to show Glendale and Los Angeles county that good quality meats can be sold at lower prices. Mr. Melhuish claims that the prices he is quoting are the most economical in the county and his object is to build up a volume business. By making a small profit on each sale and doing a large business he states that in the long run the net proceeds will run much larger.

Enviably Reputation
An enviable reputation has been built up by Mr. Melhuish while in Glendale by his courteous treatment and expert knowledge of meats. The policy of his market is to have a customer satisfied at all costs. They may receive their money back if not satisfied.

The grocery department of the Sunshine Market is owned and operated by F. J. Cummings, who has a fine line of fancy and staple groceries, handling many well-known and nationally-advertised brands.

J. M. Burgoyne had the fresh fruit and vegetable department for many months. Every fresh fruit and vegetable in season may be procured here.

For the convenience of its patrons the Sunshine Market operates a free delivery service all over the city.

Program Presented By Music Club Members

Musicians of the artists' department of Glendale Music club had a program last night at the home of Miss Helen Constance Morgan, 230 South Boynton street. Miss Gertrude Cleophas, chairman, presided. The program included selections by Miss Morgan, pianist; Frederick Clint, violinist, and a paper on "Chopin" by Mrs. Pearl Curran.

WAGE INCREASE
Following a wage increase of 10 per cent recently, many textile mills of Poland have closed down, owners claiming they now cannot run at a profit.

First Realty Class In U. S. To Graduate

On Tuesday night, March 3, the Bell Realty board educational class will hold its commencement, the speaker of the evening being Dr. R. B. Von Klein Smid, president of the California Real Estate association. His topic will deal with the "Relation of education to the success of the realtor."

This will be the first realty graduating class in the United States, according to the California Real Estate association, and the occasion will be observed in all state association circles.

Henry P. Barbour, past state president, during whose administration the educational work became state-wide in California, has been invited to speak on his favorite topic "The Realtor."

The commencement will be held in the Bell Presbyterian church and it is estimated that more than 500 will attend the commencement. Over 1000 brokers and salesmen are now taking the University of Southern California's and California Real Estate association's joint educational course.

State Chairman, Harrison Lewis of the educational division of the California Real Estate association will give a short address. State President D. Richard Ainsley, State Chairman, Commissioner Edwin E. Keiser, and visiting state officers will be guests of honor. Invitations have been extended to all boards and to the Pacific coast national officers.

FOREST LAWN TO DEDICATE TOWER

Memorial Park Landmark To Be Unveiled Tomorrow With Ceremony

An open air program including cornet solo by Sergeant B. McClure, chief trumpeter Seventeenth United States cavalry; a rendering of the "Holy City" by Harold Proctor, tenor soloist of the Temple Baptist church of Los Angeles; an invocation by Dr. Birney S. Hudson, associate pastor of that church, and an address by Dr. Daniel F. Fox, pastor of the Congregational church, Pasadena, will mark the dedicatory exercises to be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Forest Lawn Memorial park when the great Tower of Legends on that property will be unveiled by Miss Lois A. Ewing, daughter of the principal of Pasadena High school, according to an announcement by Leslie S. Hoagland of Forest Lawn.

The Tower of Legends which occupies a most prominent position on the crest of one of the Forest lawns overlooking the entire property and a landmark seen for many miles in every direction, was designed by Charles H. Kysen, architect, to enclose the reservoir of the property storing 165,000 gallons of water.

Bas-relief Design
The bas-reliefs depicting religion, genius and progress with which this tower is decorated, are the work of Finn Frolsch, California sculptor who received the commission not only because of the high recognition he has gained for his work but also in support of the desire of the Forest Lawn management to encourage the home talent of California artists. This purpose is reflected in the recent appointment to their advisory board of Marius de Brabant, who is chairman of the art commission of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Offering one of the most impressive of sites for large gatherings of people for outdoor Easter and other services and ceremonies, this Tower of Legends is surrounded by an open space easily accessible to the public through the entrance to Forest Lawn from the San Fernando road and is an admirable forum capable of accommodating approximately 25,000 people.

Plan Followed
Referring to the commission which was given him to design this tower, Charles H. Kysen states that having no architectural precedent to guide him he developed his design for the tower through clay models which he submitted to powerful planes of light to secure the strongest effects. With the desire of producing an exceptionally impressive and dynamic structure he subordinated all small architectural detail to a powerful massing of the lines of the building.

In the carrying out of the idea the architect received the cooperation of Hubert L. Eaton, chairman of the advisory board of the property and of other officials whose broadness of vision he says made it possible for him to combine in so effective a manner the structure whose sole purpose is to enclose a water tower which while serving an important utilitarian

CIVIC COMMITTEE PLANNED BY CLUB

Organizations Are Asked To Name Delegates To Big Meeting March 2

The select committee on municipal affairs elected by the Glendale Republican club at its annual meeting on February 12 to co-operate with delegates from other social, civic and religious organizations in forming a city-wide municipal league, has decided to issue the following letter, to be addressed to all such organizations in the city. The letter is signed by H. V. Adams, H. M. Butts, Mrs. E. W. Hayward, W. H. Richards, J. C. Sherer, Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, Mrs. F. B. Moore and James Everington, sr.:

"In a small village everyone knows everybody, and community needs are so few and simple that all can easily estimate them. Glendale has suddenly become a city, where no one can know everybody, and our civic needs are so varied and extensive that no one person can grasp them completely."

"Hence the urgent need for a central civic committee—a fact-finding body—of sufficient numbers and so representative of many and varied interests that a general view of the entire municipal situation may be obtained."

Ask Co-operation
"We, the undersigned, have been duly authorized by the Glendale Republican club to co-operate with others in the formation of such a civic committee, to be strictly non-partisan in its personnel and all its activities. You are requested to unite with us in this undertaking."

"The result of recent school bond elections emphasizes the necessity of a better understanding among our citizens of all points of view, and such a mutual understanding can be promoted by such a representative body as it is proposed to create. At present there is no such city-wide organization, and a recognition of this fact is a better understanding of the constitution of the sole reasons for this action being proposed."

"Losing sight of all narrow partisan and sectarian ambitions or purposes, we would counsel together as men and women of various political shades and sectional complexes that in a multitude of councilors we might find municipal wisdom."

Get Confidence
"To command the confidence of the community, justify its existence and produce results beneficial to all of our citizens, this central civic committee must be composed of men and women not only capable of conducting an intelligent inquiry into the administration of the city's business, but they must also be committed to the whole-hearted support of the constitution of the United States, the observance of the law and respect for constituted authority."

"We invite you to appoint a committee of three, or more, to meet with representatives from other social, civic and religious organizations in Glendale on Monday night, at 8 o'clock, on March 2, at the Wilson Intermediate school."

"This meeting of representative men and women of Glendale can then and there organize itself into a permanent civic committee, whose business it shall be to study the question of municipal taxes—the why of them and the effect thereof; to look carefully into all proposed bond issues to the end that our municipal bonded indebtedness shall be based upon sound business principles; to investigate proposed municipal expenditures and improvements, inquiring diligently into the reasons therefor and the utility thereof; and to scan closely the qualifications of any and all candidates for municipal office or position, to the end that Glendale may be efficiently served."

Used Elsewhere
"Such a fact-finding body must in time become a most efficient means of securing honest, efficient and economical administration of municipal affairs."

"Other cities have recognized the need of such fact-finding bodies and are profiting through their activities."

"We earnestly urge you to accept this call in the same spirit in which it is made—the desire for a united action of our citizens in all that is best for Glendale."

NEW CEMENT PLANT
DENVER, Feb. 21.—The Ideal Cement Co. has taken steps for the erection of a new plant northwest of Fort Collins which is intended to be the largest unit of its sort west of the Mississippi. Denver building permits for the first half of February totaled $1,284,000, as compared with $1,532,350 for the entire month last year.

purpose could otherwise have been far from ornamental.

Originality Is Expressed

A departure from the usual type of office and interior decorations is seen in the new quarters of JOHN T. BIBB, contractor, at 214 North Brand boulevard, where a Spanish home patio is depicted.

John T. Bibb, Glendale contractor, has just opened one of the most original and up-to-date offices in Glendale, at 214 North Brand boulevard. Mr. Bibb has been operating from his residence at 1418 North Columbus avenue, but the volume of his business has become such that larger quarters were necessary.

The front portion of the new office is built into the patio of a Spanish home, being walled around with a real adobe wall, over which one looks out onto a desert scene on one side and into the mountains on the other. These realistic decorations were

BIG PLANT PROPOSED
WILMINGTON, Feb. 21.—Negotiations to establish a new industry in Wilmington, with a plant costing more than $1,000,000, a payroll of some 2000 persons, involving expenditures of about $1,000,000 in dredging operation and a large increase in freight shipments to this port from Hawaii, are now under way by the harbor commission, the Union Pacific railroad and an undisclosed group of Hawaiian sugar planters.

RESERVOIR PLANNED
RIVERSIDE, Feb. 21.—Development of plans for the construction of a large storage reservoir on the east side as a step in the enlargement of the city water system is being discussed by the board of public utilities here. With the possibility of making available $100,000 to continue the water system improvement program, Mayor Evans has urged that serious consideration be given to construction of the reservoir or installation of a new transmission main from a San Bernardino artesian basin. The proposed reservoir would be of 20,000,000 gallons capacity.

GRADING IS STARTED
SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 21.—Grading of the Arrowhead trail across the desert from Kroneke lake to the Nevada state line, for which the county recently appropriated $12,000, has been started. A road crew of thirty men, using trucks, scrapers and tractors, is grading the route from the lake north, a distance of forty miles. The course was traveled by pioneers with ox teams in the early days of California, entering the state south of Las Vegas and traversing the country penetrated by the Union Pacific railroad.

CANYON ROAD CONSTRUCTED
YORBA LINDA, Feb. 21.—A road a mile long, including several big fills and much grading along the side of the canyon, is being built by the Union Oil Co. to reach the location of the well to be spudded in soon north of Yorba Linda tract. Trucks are already hauling material for the new well. Gas and water tanks are being laid.

SPRING CAMPAIGNS
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Power, telephone and telegraph companies have commenced their spring campaigns of replacements and betterments and, as a result, many orders are being placed for copper wire and other non-ferrous metal products.

SHOE MAKERS KICK
BROCKTON, Mass., Feb. 21.—The Brockton shoe manufacturers have been dissatisfied with the recent award of the arbitration board allowing a wage reduction of only 4 to 6 per cent and have announced the intention of reopening the cases within ten days.

HARDWOOD SALES
SHREVEPORT, Feb. 21.—Optimism over the outlook for hardwood sales during 1925 is expressed by hardwood men from Louisiana.

CLUB WOMEN ASK TREES BE SAVED

Proposed Cutting of Shade On Glendale Avenue Is Deplored

To the Citizens of Glendale—We wish to bring to your very serious consideration the proposed idea of cutting down the trees on South Glendale avenue. The two reasons given for this deplorable act are: That the street is needed for commercial purposes and that the trees detract from the beauty of the new man-made lighting fixtures. We would like to present our reasons for hoping that this act will never take place.

Is this section of Glendale avenue needed for immediate use? After talking with residents along the avenue it does not seem as if this idea were warranted. Every one will grant that eventually it may be more or less of a business street, but any fair-minded citizen knows that for the next few years to come it will remain just what it is—a residence street.

Why do a dreadful thing today just because we think a need may arise at some future date? Why not wait till we know the stores, business houses and apartments are ready and waiting and then meet the needs? People are attracted to a city not alone by wide boulevards with the latest type lighting fixtures, but also by up-to-date business blocks, but also by wide streets lined with beautiful trees—cool, quiet havens of shade in this land of brilliant sunshine.

Asset to Town
Trees are an asset to a town—a fact too easily lost sight of by rushing realtors. They should remember that there are many in this world who love the beauties of nature and go where they are to be found and if this careless destruction of trees goes on, Glendale will soon revert to the original state—a barren waste with little to attract the passerby. When that happens, where is the value of the proposed business houses along South Glendale avenue?

Now for the second reason: Only to a person devoid of all artistic sense is the scene on South Glendale avenue lacking in beauty. We grant that the bare outlines of the lighting fixtures are lacking, but their beauty is enhanced by the lacy frames that enclose them.

People are enthralled with the delicate shadows cast upon sidewalk and pavement which are fairly laden to those whose minds are attuned to real beauties. Are we willing to allow wanton destruction of fine, old trees just to expose to full gaze what is at best only a public utility? Let those who oppose such waste of powerful assets band together and put a stop to useless destruction of our friends—the Glendale trees.

Tea Room Will Hold Second Anniversary

The Harriett Mae tea room, Maryland avenue and Harvard street, will celebrate its second anniversary tomorrow. Miss Harriett Mae Reynolds established this tea room. The interior has been remodeled, which will afford a banquet and luncheon room that will seat ninety guests—this being necessary, as five service and civic clubs hold their weekly luncheons at this popular tea room.

HUGHES ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Secretary of State Hughes will be requested to explain the circumstances and conditions under which Count Michael Karolyi, the radical Hungarian nobleman, came into this country, under a resolution adopted by the Senate foreign relations committee. The state department permitted the count to enter the country only on the condition he not make any public addresses or do writing for publications while here, and the Senate now wants to know by what authority Secretary Hughes "imposed a gag rule" on a distinguished foreign visitor.

BUILDING BOOM

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21.—For the first time in the history of building construction records here, the Pittsburgh bureau total figures for the year have exceeded $18,000,000, the 1924 permits numbering 2151, calling for expenditure of $18,294,396.

Local Realty Board Plans New Methods

A California local board appraisal method, standardizing this most essential feature of the work of the realtor, is being urged by the Glendale Realty board, for the benefit of the profession, in co-operation with the California Real Estate association, according to a statement given out today by State Director Peter Hanson of the Glendale board. The standard plan will be referred to the state association's appraisal committee, of which Norman E. McFadden, president of the Santa Barbara Real Estate board, is chairman. According to Mr. Hanson, in a statement to the state association:

"This should work out in such a commendable way that the courts, attorneys and banks, in matters where appraisals are necessary, as well as in estates, will recognize the realty board's appraisal committee as the one competent and best-informed and most reliable. If other boards can adopt similar systems, they ought all get together on a statewide plan which in itself would go a long way to gain recognition of the courts."

Many boards have appraisal committees, but a large majority of the boards would welcome information and instruction on this line, according to State President D. Richard Ainsley.

T. W. PRESTON IN FAVOR OF TREES

Resident of City Seeking Preservation of Shade On Glendale Avenue

T. W. Preston of 330 North Jackson street, is one of the Glendale residents advocating the preservation of trees. He writes the following letter to The Glendale Evening News:

"I am sure there are many in Glendale who will say 'Amen' upon reading the article in a recent issue of The Glendale News, written by Mrs. Hartley Shaw deploring the contemplated sacrifice of the fine trees upon Glendale avenue. Surely the lofty and elaborate lamp posts with their double lamps placed so closely together, especially at street intersections, would provide quite enough illumination to satisfy the most enthusiastic booster."

"Though the offending trees may somewhat temper the direct light rays do they not add enough to the attractiveness of the city to warrant their retention, at least in all sections where business has not replaced residences? A few years ago it was necessary to fight hard to save the lives of the splendid great eucalyptus trees on Lomita and Brand, while recently the fine peppers and other shade trees have been cut down on Central avenue. Is a 'treeless city' more desirable than a city of homes and beauty?"

ELECTRIC WINS WHEREVER U. C. GOES

Pacific Lines Are Favored No Matter Where Site Is Selected

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

Burbank, or Westwood, favored sites for the southern branch, University of California—either selection and the Pacific Electric wins! A study of the university problem of remaining in the vicinity of Los Angeles has revealed that practically all sites considered would favor the red line interurban.

And not strange to note, the Fullerton civic boosters appealed to the railroad officials to make an extra quick trip to the Orange county town the day the regents inspected their site, some twenty-seven miles from the metropolis, on a special car.

With the completion of the subway in October of this year the Beverly Hills Westwood site and the Burbank Benmar Hills site will be on equal terms insofar as distance is concerned via the Pacific Electric, the writer has learned. There is slight difference in running time and fares, it is said.

"Hunch" Suspected

However, a question arises in the mind of the inquisitive person. Was the Pacific Electric playing a "hunch" when it extended its Burbank line to Benmar Hills in Burbank recently. Or have the officials some "inside information" regarding the future of Burbank. Certainly, investments are not idly made, and particularly in view of the fact that the only extension made in the last six months was on the Burbank line.

From a standpoint of highways Beverly Hills and Burbank can match claims for strategic locations. Both communities offer hillside of commanding view. But Burbank has something other site offers. That is the mainline Southern Pacific which would bring students south from Ventura, Kern, Santa Barbara and other counties directly to the campus gates. The Southern Pacific appreciates the business it has developed in Berkeley and no doubt it will be to its interest to boost Burbank.

Burbank Position
Burbank is more accessible to Pasadena and the Pomona valley by motorcar; it is equally accessible by train.

IRON MILL STRIKE

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa., Feb. 21.—About 700 men are on strike at the Schuylkill Iron works over a wage dispute. The management declares the scale for workers offered by the company in certain remodeled and modernized mills is higher than that paid by competitors. This has been refused and the management has closed the plants.

YELLOW PINE DEMAND

HOUSTON, Feb. 21.—Texas and Oklahoma still are the chief buyers of yellow pine yard stocks. The purchases have been sufficient to take care of the output of the Texas and Oklahoma mills. Buying from the oil fields shows some increase.

QUALITY PAYS
SAY PLUMBERS

Jewel City Plumbing Co.
Makes Quality Foundation Of Business

Quality, as exemplified in both workmanship and materials used, is the foundation on which the Jewel City Plumbing Co., 526 East Broadway, has built its present success and on which it is securing a steadily increasing number of contracts for the installation of plumbing in Glendale business houses and residences.

Associated together as partners in the business are G. L. Berryman and F. R. Bruner, both practical men, with years of experience in the plumbing business. "From the day we started our business," says Mr. Bruner, "we have adhered to the policy of putting quality first in everything that we do, and the results of this course are seen in the growth of our business to a point that crowds our present quarters. We have insisted that every piece of material that goes into a job be of first grade only, and that the workmanship on every job be that of expert workmen."

"It has always been our business policy to see that each of our customers get a good job and a fair and square deal. Years of experience has taught us how to install good plumbing, and our business has been built up on good service promptly rendered at moderate and honest prices. "A large and complete line of plumbing materials and fixtures is carried in stock at all times, which eliminates any possible chance for delay, and, as all materials are purchased in large quantities, a saving is effected, which is gladly passed along to the customers."

Among the lines carried by the firm are the Pacific line of plumbing fixtures, which are guaranteed for the life of the building in which they are installed, and the "Mueller" line of brass goods, faucets and valves, which carry a similar guarantee of long life. The Jewel City Plumbing Co. also has the exclusive agency in Glendale and Eagle Rock for the well-known Ward gas floor furnace, and a large number of these popular furnaces have been installed in the homes of this section.

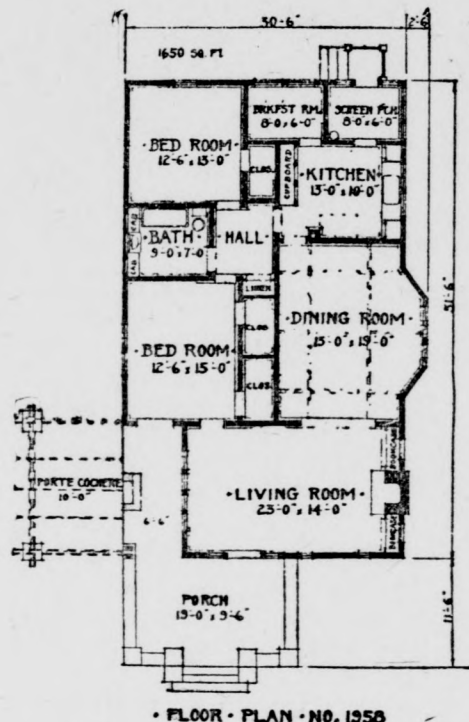

The firm carries an average of fifteen to eighteen experienced plumbers on the payroll at all times, to handle the contracts that are now being installed, and to take care of their ever-increasing business.

Sand and Gravel Co.
Equipped For Big Jobs

Gardenhire and Wier, located at the corner of Verdugo Road and Glendale Ave., report that they are now ready to handle jobs of any size, their slogan being, "No job too big and none too small." It is encouraging to note that substantial firms are being added every day to the list of Glendale industries—an indication that this is a profitable field in which to work.

This concern is owned and operated by A. B. Gardenhire, Jr., and Lee C. Wier. The products are sand and crushed rock for all building purposes, including all grades of specification rock. Mr. Gardenhire states that they are running to capacity, having a day and night crew steadily employed.

As the result of work of a committee appointed to reduce the cost of living in Austria, the price of milk and bread has been reduced.

Now, after years of careful thought and study by those who have devoted their time to creating attractive exteriors and convenient, well arranged rooms, you are privileged to choose plans which give in return for investment maximum home value.

Carefully executed plans eliminate every possible avenue of waste and represent real economy.

There are too many things to be considered—too many details that require competent execution for you to disregard the valuable assistance that completely developed plans give. You would not think of cutting into a piece of dress goods and undertake building a dress by guess work—instead you choose an idea from illustrations and a pattern to follow, which assures the completed dress being a reflection of the one selected. And you must consider building a dress is a minor undertaking to that of constructing a home. The hundreds of dissatisfied home builders who invested their savings in homes built by guess, with absolute disregard for details, are object lessons which you will do well to profit by.

Building plans advise you in advance just what every department of the new home will look and be like before the construction work is started and if there are changes desired to care for individual requirements, the time to decide this is in the plans. It is reasonable to appreciate the cost is far less to erase or make pen marks on blue prints than to tear down boards after they have been nailed in place.

Plans represent real worth-while savings in time and labor, and the small cost exacted for stock or ready-to-build-from plans, commands their use. The large assortment created for you to choose from not only offers valuable assistance but conveys ideas which enable you to include details that have to do with making the home complete, convenient and attractive.

The home plans featured on these pages are available, and any information desired regarding them may be obtained.—From Building Editor, Glendale Evening

COLOR AROUND HOME GROUNDS

Garden Expert Advises Use
Of Shrubbery

By E. WATERHOUSE
Landscape Gardener With Brand
Boulevard Nursery

This article is dedicated to those home-owners who have a desire to make the exterior of their residences more attractive. Lawn comes first, of course. Nothing has yet been devised to take the place of the cool restful green of the well established lawn. It is not necessary to tell how to make a good lawn because most seedsmen and nursery men supply this information with their seeds. The principal object in view is the establishment of a strong turf of bluegrass and clover and the keeping of this turf so healthy that weeds and noxious grasses do not get a chance to start. A meal of commercial fertilizer or blood will add new life to your lawn when applied in the fall of the year.

Recent years have seen the introduction of many new flowering shrubs which are now carried in stock by most nurserymen. Because some of these shrubs lose their leaves in winter, they are not included in many gardens. An example of this is the African tamarisk which has a mass of pink flowers in the early spring. It is ideal to use on a slope where there is plenty of room for it to spread out. Other flowering deciduous shrubs are the Japanese Globe flowers, which has double yellow blossoms, the Japanese flowering quince which has a conspicuous red bloom, and the mock orange which is a high growing shrub with abundant blossom resembling those of the orange.

No more striking color can be found than that of the Cottonwood which there are several varieties, all bearing berries ranging in color from orange to dark red. Strikingly colored berries are also found on the pyracantha, commonly called thorn bushes.

If you are seeking flowers which have blue blossoms, there is the old-fashioned Rose Marie which has gray-green foliage and can be used to advantage with higher growing shrubs as a background. The plumbago is another blue flowering shrub commonly used as a climber, but which can be pruned to bush form.

Color is not found in flowers and fruit, but in varying shades of green foliage and autumn tints. For instance, the family of Australian Pittosporums which have shades of green which are very light, almost cream color and others that are very dark green, nearly black.

The mahonia, or Oregon grape, noted for its reddish color at this time of the year and should be more widely planted. The Japanese dwarf maple and the purple leaved plum are other plants which have high coloring in their leaves.

Flowering trees are so abundant that they are familiar to most of us. The jacaranda, acacia, red flowering eucalyptus and magnolia are well known and are suitable as specimen trees or in groups. By proper selection, you can obtain trees that will produce a recurrence of flowers during a large part of the year, that the eye can more readily appreciate the contrasts and so that there will be no unharmonious combinations of color.

Thermosoid Concrete Home

Pictured above is one of the many types of homes which the Thermosoid Construction Co., located at Colorado boulevard and San Fernando road, has designed and built for the discriminating class of people who desire more than just a place to live. As the picture implies, a Thermosoid concrete home becomes a monument to the ideals of those who know what is best in construction. According to Mr. Needham, president of the company, Thermosoid construction gives to the true home-seeker a type of abode which is warm in winter, cool in summer and everlastingly fireproof. How this combination was attained is accounted for by the fact that a Thermosoid home has double, hermetically sealed, reinforced, hollow concrete walls. Homes and income properties are financed 100 per cent if desired and those having Thermosoid homes find they cost no more than frame, asserts Mr. Needham.

Carrier Tube Will Be Ready By Next Fall

ment and first floor will be completed by October in order to allow the Pacific Electric to operate its subway and streetcar lines, while building continues overhead. The station will be the most modern and convenient in all the world, it is assured, with every facility to avoid congestion.

The eventual correlation of a series of tubes leading to all parts of the city will make it a center second only perhaps to the Pacific Electric's Sixth and Main street station which will be headquarters for a greater elevated system serving the southern, eastern and northern divisions of the inter-urban system.

Tunnel Plans
To provide power for the new subway to Glendale, which will shorten running time on the San Fernando lines fifteen minutes or more, the Pacific Electric now has under construction a substation at Second and Toluca streets that entails a capital investment of $140,000.

There will be no stops inside of the mile long tunnel, and the mile distance will be made under the heart of Los Angeles hotel and apartment house area in less than two minutes. It now takes sixteen to twenty-five minutes on the surface line through the same section, it is said.

New equipment on the Glendale line, which likely will come with the use of the subway, will facilitate loading and unloading of passengers which will save additional time. From Broadway, Los Angeles, literally speaking, to Broadway, Glendale, will be only a matter of twenty-five minutes, far faster than a motorcar can wend its way through congestion.

The subway terminal is located within three blocks of the hotel, theatre, shopping and office district of Los Angeles which will be another inducement for commuters to reside in Glendale, Hollywood or San Fernando valley area.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

DIET IN KIDNEY DISEASE

Mr. B.—Bright's disease is an inflammation of the kidneys, and is so named after the man who first made a study of kidney disorders.

The kidneys in childhood most often become inflamed from acute infections such as scarlet fever, diphtheria, etcetera. There is a chronic type of inflammation in adult life that probably comes from incorrect diet, especially one high in the acid-forming foods, and from overeating and unhygienic living.

In a normal diet there should be a preponderance of the non-acid-forming foods, and this is especially important in Bright's disease. The vegetables, especially potatoes and green vegetables, milk and fruit (especially cantaloupe) are the non-acid-forming foods. Breads, cereals, flesh foods and eggs have acid-forming elements, so should be limited; alcohol, tea and spices should be avoided entirely.

Lessen the bread and cereals and substitute a goodly quantity of potatoes, instead, for the carbohydrate foods. Potatoes are highly alkalizing. Lots of water between meals is important—ten glasses at least.

A concentrated acid-forming diet is one of the reasons for chronic inflammations of the bladder and is one of the factors causing stones in the kidneys and bladder. The urine becomes concentrated and oversaturated with waste materials, its solvent power is lessened, and stones may form.

A BIG DIFFERENCE

"Dear Doctor: You will be pleased to know that by following your instructions I have lost 47 pounds—from over 200 pounds to 153—in six and one-half months.

"As you promised, I have gained more health and happiness. I feel like a new person. I am only five feet, four and one-half inches tall, so 45 pounds makes a big difference.

"I am indebted only to you and my own will power, Mrs. K."

Of course your husband admires you more, Mrs. K. He has greater respect for your character. And your appearance must be nearer what it was when he fell in love with you.

In time the top of a much-used table is almost sure to become disfigured. When this happens the housekeeper can easily renew its surface herself as follows:

Remove the original gloss by scrubbing with one quart of hot water containing one heaping tablespoon of washing soda. Then fold a piece of thick felt, or a square of old pile carpeting, over a block of wood two inches square, which has a flat face, and dip the felt, or carpeting, into linseed oil, sprinkle it with powdered pumice, and go over the table top with long, even strokes, working with the grain. Take care to keep felt or carpeting well moistened with the oil, otherwise the pumice may leave fine scratches. When the surface is smooth to the touch, wipe off the pumice with some oil applied to a piece of soft silk. Then rub off the surplus oil with clean rags.

You have now removed the oil polish. No doubt, too, the old stain has been partly removed. Apply a new oil stain (this may be a darker color, if desired, as dark oak over light oak), taking pains to avoid streaks. In about twenty minutes this applied stain will begin to set, and you must now wipe off the surface with a bunch of soft rags, again working with the grain. Let stand for over twenty-four hours—forty-eight is safer—then, if the grain has been raised by the stain, smooth lightly with number double-nothing sandpaper and wipe off the dust.

The next step will depend upon your personal preference. If you want a varnish finish, choose a waterproof varnish and apply two coats, twenty-four hours apart. This treatment is best for dining tables. If you desire a dull finish, coat before applying the second. Let the second stand forty-eight hours then rub down with oil and pumice, taking care to make the stroke light and even, so as not to cut through the first coat.

But if you wish a waxed finish, do not apply varnish at all. Instead, use a coat of shellac and finish with wax a few hours later. A waxed finish is beautiful for side tables and small, fancy tables.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

The annual hard-time costume ball will be given tonight at 8 o'clock at the Columbus clubhouse, 330 East Lomita avenue, by Glendale council, 1920, Knights of Columbus. Two valuable prizes will be given away at the dance.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

ESTABLISHING A TYPE

Every woman can be either beautiful or so interesting that her looks won't matter. Naturally, she will want to be both, but that's as Nature made her. If she isn't beautiful, and can't be, even though she has a clear skin, rich glossy hair, bright eyes, a good carriage and a good figure, all of which blessings she can acquire by her own efforts, then she must put most of her work upon making herself interesting. First of all, she must emphasize her type, or establish one. There are boyish types, sweet young girl types, the sensible womanly-woman type; oh, there are thousands. There are the many intellectual ones, which need not, however, wear ugly dresses and school teacher spectacles. If the lifeless, rather anemic woman can simply find her type, and then accentuate it, she is made socially.

If homely, the woman should dress a little out of the ordinary, not enough to be freakish, merely a trifle eccentric. It's amazing how interesting a woman is said to be, when people begin to say, smilingly, that she's eccentric. Everyone wants to meet her. She should choose a style of dressing, and never change it, merely modify it to keep it with fashion. I know one woman who looked rather a figure in an early Italian painting. She wore black velvet basque dresses with wide lace collars and lace ruffles at the cuffs in winter, and variations of the same picturesque style done in silk or gingham in summer, and at her throat, a single, large black opal, and no other jewelry. She was charming, yet she really was an ugly woman, and in a ready-made coat and skirt she

Wedding Tonight

The Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, will be the setting tonight, Saturday, February 21, 1925, at 8 o'clock for the marriage of Miss Vivienne Irene Alspaugh of 1100 North Central avenue, and Charles Bassett Mountcastle of Los Angeles. Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, will perform the ceremony. One hundred invitations have been issued to the wedding.

The bride will wear a white bengaline ensemble suit trimmed with white fox fur and lined with peach colored satin. Her dress, which is also peach colored satin, is trimmed with cream imported lace and pearl ornaments. She will wear a string of oriental pearls, a gift from Mr. Mountcastle. She will wear a white picture hat, faced with peach colored silk and carry a shower bouquet of sunburst roses and lilies of the valley.

Little Charles Weyand, dressed in a black velvet suit will carry the ring on a peach colored satin pillow. Mrs. E. T. Remmen of Glendale will act as matron of green brocade velvet clothed gown trimmed with ostrich and rhinestone buckle, and a white picture hat. Her flowers will be a corsage of sweet peas. Dr. E. T. Remmen will act as best man.

Miss Beatrice Zamzow of Glendale and John Newton of Los Angeles will serve as ushers. The bride will be given in marriage by her father, O. A. Alspaugh. Mrs. Alspaugh will wear a black lace dress over grey. Her hat will be a black picture hat with a large bow. She will wear a corsage bouquet of American Beauty red sweetpeas and orchids.

Beethoven's wedding march will be played by Mrs. Philip Perfect. Mrs. J. A. Budd will sing "I Lay My Yoke Upon O, Perfect Day." After the ceremony a wedding supper and reception will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alspaugh, twenty-five relatives and friends being invited to attend. Sweetpeas, carnations and potted plants are being used in profusion to decorate the Alspaugh home.

A wedding trip to Galveston, Texas, is being planned for the early summer. Mr. and Mrs. Mountcastle will be at home to help friends after March 1 at Grace court, 122 West Elk street. Mrs. Mountcastle is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Alspaugh of 1100 North Central avenue. She spent her girlhood in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. After graduating from the high school she attended the University of Akron, Ohio. Mr. Mountcastle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Mountcastle and until recently was a resident of Cleveland, Ohio. He attended Dartmouth College at Hanover, New Hampshire, and is now assistant manager for the American National Insurance company, Los Angeles.

Reviews of many of the popular plays now showing in New York were given yesterday at the Drama department of the Tuesday Afternoon club by Mrs. Beulah Wright Comstock, instructor. She told of the plays "Processional," "Carnival," "Candida," "The Rivals" and others. Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, curator, presided. Current events of dramatic interest were given by members. The lesson for the afternoon was on one-act plays. After the discussion by Mrs. Comstock, the play "Joint Owners in Spain" was read by Mesdames A. L. Bryant, A. M. Hunt, Harry P. Lockwood and T. C. Young. Hostesses for the meeting were Mesdames L. E. Gates, John Garver and L. W. Hyde.

Lodge Club Meets
Plans for a dinner and dance in April were made at the meeting of the Rebekah Afternoon club yesterday afternoon in the Odd Fellows' hall, 201-A West Broadway. The date for the dinner will be announced later. Mrs. Adelaide Meyers, president, presided at the meeting and appointed committees. Mrs. Flora Hollenbeck and Mrs. Clara Fry were appointed on the financial committee; Mrs. Evelyn Hall assisted on the entertainment and industrial chairman. Mrs. Viola Ertel appointed publicity chairman. Mrs. Winnie Hartley won the traveling prize. Tables were arranged for five-hundred. The next meeting will be an all-day meeting, March 6, with a covered dish lunch at noon.

With Mrs. Ayars
More than eighty members and guests of chapter B. A. P. E. O. were entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. Frank C. Ayars, 218 Hill drive. It was "Guest Day" and the noon luncheon and afternoon program were features. The program included three songs by Mrs. Alice Ripley, accompanied by Mrs. Alice Ripley, "The Unknown Soldier," "Little Pickaninny" and "Baby"; piano solos by Mrs. Ripley; cycle of Japanese songs in costume by Mrs. Lura Jennings Burris; "Redbird Dance" by Gertrude Muske, and readings by Loeta Bannister.

Birthday Party
Ruth Nicholson's sixth birthday was marked by a party given last night by her aunt, Mrs. T. I. Odland of 126 1/2 Franklin court. The birthday table was covered with a crepe paper cover with floral design. A basket of orange blossoms was the centerpiece and place cards with favor baskets were at the places. A pink birthday cake with six candles was feature. Those present were Barbara Weir, Wright Huff, Evelyn Weir, Ellis Nicholson, Bernice Odland, Tommy Odland and Ruth Nicholson.

From Local Club
Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood, chairman of ways and means, and Mrs. E. S. Dodds, reciprocity chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon club, attended reciprocity day yesterday at the Lankershim Women's club.

NEW BARGES
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21.—It is expected that at least fifty-seven new barges will be put in operation by the federal Mississippi warrior river barge line before mid-summer.

Entertains Club

Members of the "Sharks' club" were entertained last night by Mrs. Mary Hadsell, 1319 East Orange Grove avenue. Six tables of progressive five-hundred were arranged. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. John Addison and James Stewart. Mrs. Vern Reed and T. H. Addison received consolation prizes. Refreshments were served at the close of the card game. The club will meet March 6 at the home of Mrs. Vern Reed, 239 North Verdugo road. Attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. John Addison, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Groutage, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Reed, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Riches, Misses Edith Addison, Mary Elliott, Annie Chapman, Margaret Carter, Myrtle Knapp, Mrs. Alice Atkins, Mrs. Lucille Brown, James Stewart, Francis Hadsell, T. H. Addison and V. C. Hadsell.

Pythian Dinner

La Hella Temple, Pythian Sisters, held a birthday dinner last night at Knights of Pythias hall, South Brand boulevard and Park avenue. Birthdays of Mrs. Urzella Joliffe, Mrs. Melissa K. Dickson, Mrs. Antoinette Melzer, Mrs. Violet Peters, Mrs. Marjorie Deaton and S. C. Joliffe were celebrated. A large birthday cake decorated with candles forming a question mark on the cake, adorned the dinner table. A short business meeting directed by Mrs. Melissa K. Dickson, most excellent chief, was held. Members then motored to Alhambra to attend a reception and banquet given for Mrs. Urzella Joliffe, district deputy. At the next meeting on March 6 complete plans for the district convention April 3 will be made.

GLENDALE WILL REPRESENT LOOP

G. U. H. S. Lightweight Team To Enter Playoff For State Championship

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

At the Central league meeting held at Alhambra, the Moors officially withdrew from the league as the class B representatives. The Moors lites played and beat Perris early in the week but this game will not count and the Glendale team which was chosen to represent the league in the Southern California play-off, will start in Alhambra's place. Glendale will play Perris some time the first of next week, probably Monday or Tuesday.

Other important matters discussed and decided upon were the selecting of the grounds for the track meets and league managers. Coach Normal C. Hayhurst of Glendale High was chosen as track manager, and Coach Mackintosh of Covina was chosen baseball manager.

Broadway field was chosen as the grounds for the Central league track meets, the class C teams meeting there March 28 and the heavyweights tangle April 4. The baseball schedule will start April 17, the locals have three of their hardest games at home.

Track Schedule
The following is the track schedule for Glendale High given by Benton Moore, local student track manager:

February 20—Oxy Frosh vs. Glendale at Occidental college.
February 27—Citrus Riverside and Glendale, triangular meet at Citrus.

March 6—Cal Tech Frosh, Glendale and Monrovia at Cal Tech.

March 19—Alhambra, Glendale and South Pasadena class B teams at Glendale.

March 16—South Pasadena and Alhambra at Glendale.

March 28—League class B and C meet at Glendale.

April 4—Central league heavy-weight meet at Glendale.
Glendale at the present time has two open dates, March 20 and 27. At the present time Benton Moore is trying to arrange a meet with Manual Arts High school for March 20.

SPORT CHATTER

By DAVIS J. WALSH.
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The New York Yankees, or the first section thereof, left yesterday for their training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., highly esteemed by local gentlemen of the press as champions-in-prospect for 1925.

The writer does not concur with these findings. He is particularly pleased to believe that the Yankees shot their bolt when they failed to win their fourth straight pennant last year. Time has placed its inevitable hall mark upon many an honest countenance and, as they move about, each creaking joint sends out a plaintive call for help. The Yankees lack that school girl complexion.

The worthy Miller Huggins has sensed the situation from afar and in the unusually ample squad of forty at the camp will be many a callow youth. However, he probably will open the season with the same lineup that finished the 1924 campaign.

I have selected offhand, eighteen men who, in all likelihood, will form the first string array and find that their average age is 30 years. In baseball one often becomes a semi-antique at 30.

Only six of the eighteen selected, to wit, Joe Dugan, 27; Aaron Ward, 28; Whitey Witt, 28; Bob Meusel, 28; Waite Hoyte, 25, and Karl Combs, 23, remain on the sunny side of baseball's invisible dead line and of these, Combs is the only one who comes under the head of new blood. The others, in spite of their tender years, have been around for quite some time.

Dugan, for example, came up to the Athletics eight years ago; Ward has been with the Yankees since 1918; Witt with the Athletics since 1916, while Hoyt got a trial with the Giants nine years ago at the age of 16.

An exception is Meusel, who came up in 1920 and apparently still faces a long straight road.

Fails To Arrange Big Game For Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—Paul H. Davis, graduate manager of Stanford, returned home unable to reach an agreement as to the January 1 football game in the Rose Bowl, Pasadena. Davis was selected to arrange a contest with an eastern eleven for the coast championship, it was said.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

By Special Leased Wire to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Eddie Collins will be one of the most interesting figures in big league baseball this season as he will be the only big league manager to be undergoing his baptism of fire. All the other managers have had at least one season of experience and hard knocks.

Collins, though, has had so much experience as a major league player that he knows about what is coming to him and he isn't afraid of the knocks. Indeed he has had a pretty good look-in on the trials and tribulations of management through his service as captain of the Chicago White Sox.

"It does not seem any different to be manager," Collins told the writer the other day. "A manager does not do a whole lot except give advice and assume responsibility. I don't know how good the advice may be that I shall retail to the players of the Sox, but I'm willing to assume the responsibility. I'm only just beginning, but I'm not much of a believer in the theory that the manager is the whole thing in baseball. Seems to me that the players have a little credit coming to them. I guess that's due to the fact that I've been a player so long myself."

"Now and then the boys in the field do things that a manager would not have time to tell them to do, and those are the little plays that win ball games. At you can win about two games more all around from the other teams than they win from you, the pennant is yours. But you can't do that unless the boys in the field use their heads in the pinches."

"What chance have you for 1925," the writer asked.
"Might be worse. We've got a pretty good ball team. If there is any player of those now reserved by our club who can make a good shortstop he will get the chance to shine at the grates more strength at short than we had last season. But with Kamm at third, myself at second and Sheely at first, the ball can be handled pretty well. Give us a good shortstop and put him between Kamm and me and you will see Kamm shine as the third baseman of the league. I'll take my chances, being an old player—not in years, you know, but don't forget that I've been playing baseball quite a long time."

"How about the pitchers?"
"I could stand more pitching too. But every team is that way. Show me a team that is not asking for more pitchers, even when they are presumed to be filled up with the best. I never yet seen a manager who would admit he had enough pitchers. Most of ours had arm trouble last season. I'm hoping they will come around all right this year. But of course I'd like to have some more."

"And of course you do not expect to finish in last place?"
"Exactly. I don't know what team will be last in the American league race. I'd like to find anyone who does know. But I do know that the Sox have enough in them to get out of last place and seven other clubs had better watch out. Whatever else may happen between now and next October, there is one team that will carry a war club in every game and its slogan will be—'last place, never again!' That's the White Sox."

Three Trophies of Speed

C. M. FULLER, left, and C. B. GARRETSON, president and assistant sales manager of the Richfield Oil Co., offering mutual congratulations over trophies now on display in the windows of B. H. Dyas Co.

The special collection of racing trophies which have been on display all week in the windows of B. H. Dyas Co., L. A., will be exhibited at the Speedway and for the benefit of racing fans. This collection, which comprises three of the sport's best known and most valuable trophies, have been won by users of Richfield gasoline, and were brought to the coast through the efforts of C. M. Fuller, president of the Richfield Oil Co. and an ardent supporter of motor racing.

In this collection are the jewel-studded crown won by Joe Boyer in his record breaking ride at Indianapolis May 30 last year; the solid sterling silver brick Prest-O-Lite trophy, won by Jimmy Mui by in the same race, although it is but 5x7x14 inches, weighs over 150 pounds and is valued at more than $2,000; and the world famous $30,000 Wheeler-Schaefer Indianapolis Speedway trophy, won last year by Earl Cooper, which is considered the most valuable, and most coveted sporting trophy in the world.

This mammoth cup made by Tiffany, which goes to the winner of the Indianapolis 500 mile race each year, in spite of all that has been said and written about it, has remained more or less a myth in the minds of many people and will be viewed with interest by the thousands who see the display.

Made of sterling silver, this huge trophy stands seven feet eleven inches in height, has a shipping weight of nearly half a ton—893 pounds to be exact, and is covered with inscriptions showing the various drivers who have won it at Indianapolis. It had the honor of a special guard on its journey from the east and is especially guarded while on display.

Racing fans will recall that for four consecutive years it has been won by an exclusive user of the "Gasoline of Power" against a field of the best known drivers in the world. Won by Earl Cooper last year, Tommy Milton won the last year, Tommy Milton won the cup in 1921 and 23 and Jimmy Murphy in 1922, establishing new world's records for track and distance in each of these races.

Gibbons Challenges Champion To Match

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Tom Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, through his manager, Eddie Kane, has formally challenged Jack Dempsey for a title bout to be held this summer. Gibbons' challenge, accompanied by a $2,500 check as evidence of good faith, will be acted on at the meeting of the New York State Boxing commission next Tuesday. At the same time the commission will consider the challenge of Harry Wills, filed with the commission Tuesday of this week and determine which man, Gibbons or Wills, is entitled to the first chance at the championship.

First Playoff Game Tuesday At Pomona

The first game of the lightweight basketball play-off will be staged Tuesday afternoon at Pomona when Glendale meets Perris High school team. The local lightweights were officially declared winners in the Central league and will compete with other league winners to decide the Southern California title. The game is scheduled to start at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

GOLF TOURNEY TO OPEN ON MONDAY

Event Will Last Four Weeks, Will Compute Averages For Prize Awards

The second Community Service golf putting tournament will start Monday at Cornwell & Kelly, 107 South Brand boulevard, and will last four weeks, according to an announcement made today by Albert Cornwell, in charge of the tournament. Entries can be made any time and players can compete as many times as they wish, but must play at least two games. The entrance fee will be 25 cents.

In figuring scores for prizes, averages will be figured at the end of the tournament. In addition to the usual prizes, there will be blind bogey prizes. The rules call for two or more players competing at any one time.

Golfers can use their own sticks or sticks will be furnished by Cornwell & Kelly. Eighteen holes will constitute a match, played on the putting green. The green will be straight for six holes, tilted to the left for six holes and tilted to the right for six holes.

Barrett Knocks Out Rodgers In Second

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—Bob Barrett, hard hitting Philadelphia welterweight, celebrated his first appearance in a California ring by putting Danny Rodgers, Baltimore lad, out for the count in the second round of their scheduled ten round go at the L street arena here last night. The Philadelphia boy was brought here by Jim Dougherty, referee of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight at Shelby, stopped Rodgers with a terrific right to the head.

Barrett and Dougherty will leave today for San Francisco, where the latter is scheduled to referee the Jack Silver-Joe Benjamin bout next Monday.

Jimmy Duffey of Oakland, who may get a return match with the Philadelphia boy, was at the ringside last night getting a line on Barrett. Duffey was knocked out in the third round in a fight with Barrett at Philadelphia some time ago.

Daugherty Named As Referee For Contest

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—"Ace" Hudkins, Nebraska wildcat is to have a chance at the winner of the Jack Silver-Joe Benjamin lightweight coast championship bout here Monday, it was learned today. The Mission Athletic club will stage the bout probably on March 21. Don Shields, matchmaker, was in Los Angeles today to get Hudkins' signature.

Announcement was made today that Jimmy Daugherty will referee the Silver-Benjamin go, he having been selected by Boxing Commissioner William Hanlon.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The New York boxing commission will shortly be called up to face a knotty question. Can Benny Leonard, having retired as a lightweight titleholder return to the ring and fight Mickey Walker for the welterweight championship.

Any ordinary man would say "why not", but that is because the average citizen does not know about the complex mechanism of boxing affairs in this city.

Anyway, Jimmy Johnston wants to promote this bout at one of the big league parks. It will be recalled that Jimmy had the fight all arranged last year. The fighters had agreed to box and tickets were selling. Then Benny went west and fought Pal Moran, injuring his thumb. At least it was claimed to be an injury.

They say that Leonard, in this fight against Pal had decided to make a test of his ability to come somewhere near the limit of the lightweight class and see what he could do. The result was not satisfactory, and this is believed to be the real cause of his retirement.

That he would have better success in making the welterweight limit there is no doubt, and if the purse offered is sufficiently high—as it will be—there is little doubt that he might be induced to meet the welter king.

Even if he were defeated, which is not likely, he would still have the credit of having retired undefeated from the lightweight throne. Walker is keen for this battle, and the way things look now it is one of the biggest cards any promoter who seeks to rival Tex Rickard could play.

That the New York politicians would welcome the bout may be gathered from their attitude toward it last summer. So don't be surprised if the something breaks in this regard before long.

Ring Fans Disagree With Wells' Decision

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Some of the newspaper critics today were not in accord with the decision of Referee Irwin in raising the hand of Bermondsey Billy Wells at the conclusion of his ten round bout with Jack Britton. They expressed belief that the go was an even break. Britton gave the Britisher a boxing lesson in the first four rounds and sent him to the canvas for a moment to the second round. Wells won the sixth and eighth rounds clearly while most observers thought the fifth, seventh, ninth and tenth were even up.

NAME FAST CARD FOR ASCOT TRACK

Washington Sweepstakes Is Feature Event Sunday; Tenth Anniversary

The George Washington sweepstakes will be the feature race on an eleven-events card at Ascot Speedway tomorrow afternoon. The race will be run on the tenth anniversary of the running of the original Father-of-our-country auto race at old Ascot speedway in 1915.

Seven automobile races, three motor-bike contests and a game of the sensational auto polo should provide many thrills for the spectators. The schedule of popular prices adopted by the new management which took over the speed plant a month ago will remain in effect.

"Fuzzy" Davidson, Fred Lock-lider driving Frank Lockart's "roller skate" racing car, Ralph Ormsby, Floyd Shawhawn, Floyd Roberts, Chance Kinsley, Al Waters, "Pop" Evans, Cliff Bergere, "whirling dervish of the speedways," George Beck, Curley Young and forty other noted automobile racing pilots who are most expert at the paved speedway and dirt track racing sport will participate in the events. Many famous motor-bike riders are entered in the two-wheel dashes.

BASKETBALL RESULTS

Inability to make free throws cost the Standard Oil team of the Glendale Merchants' league a defeat last night, when the Standard Oil team of Santa Monica won, 19 to 17, in the first extra period. The game was played at the Harvard High school gym. The Santa Monica team outplayed the locals in the first quarter, but in the second and third quarters the locals got most of the points. Santa Monica is tied for first place in the Community Service league at the bay city.

The lead alternated in the third quarter, the score at half time standing 11 to 10, with the Santa Monica team leading. On several occasions the Glendale team had chances to win the game by making free throws in the last quarter, but only one was made, tying the count, 17 to 17.

The lineups:
Santa Monica (19) Glendale (17)
Ryan (7) R.F. Stoff (9)
Helm (2) L.F. Kethum (8)
Smith (10) C. Isenbaur (8)
White (1) E.G. Schenck (7)
Bryant (1) Donovan for Smith

6 1/2% and 7% money—Terms 10 to 15 years. Loans can be paid off after three years.

The monod reinforced precast concrete vacuumized wall construction increases borrowing power on improvement and reduces your insurance rate, giving you a home that is fireproof—everlasting, embodying the Thermos bottle effect—a protection from the extremes of heat and cold. ALL THIS at the same price of frame or stucco on vine construction. Let our Architectural Free Service Dept. submit plans and specifications subject to your approval and talk over financing plan with you.

EMERSON B. FAIRBANKS
Emerson B. Fairbanks died Saturday, February 21, 1923, at 1131 East Wilson avenue, at the age of 70 years. He was a native of Wisconsin. W. C. Whiter, a relative, survived him. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the L. G. Scovern chapel on South Brand boulevard. Interment will take place in Forest Lawn Memorial park.

AT LA CRESCENTA
LA CRESCENTA, Feb. 21.—Women in silks and laces, with high, powdered wigs, greeted over one hundred guests who attended the silver tea given at the home of Mrs. Mark S. Collins yesterday afternoon. Two of the larger rooms of the Collins home were taken up with the ten card tables, while the tea tables were spread in the sun-room. Mrs. William A. Reed sang "Dormi, Dormi," from the Italian by Ricci, and "Marcheta," by Victor Schertzinger. Mrs. Imogene Smith sang the "Slave Song" by Teresa Del Rio and the cadman's "At Dawning." Past presidents in costume were Mesdames Helen Thomas, Rose Nettleton, Harvey H. Bissell, Fred Anderson, C. A. Haskins, C. E. Culbertson and Mark S. Collins. Mrs. Robert Wildhack and Alice Singleton, who presided at the tea and coffee urns, also were in costume.

Assisting the hostess were Mesdames William Reed, M. M. Giese, R. Thomas and Shirley Wetmore, who were attired in white with caps and aprons, carrying out the George Washington motif. At the candy table Mrs. Thomas Minford and Mrs. A. W. Brown presided.

Over $100 was realized for the building fund of the La Crescenta Women's club fund. Plans of the proposed building will be shown on Wednesday next at the regular meeting. Coffee for the occasion was procured for the club by Mrs. F. L. Sullivan, chairman of the ways and means committee, through the courtesy of the Maxwell Coffee Co.

A birthday party for children of the Sunday school of St. Luke's of the Mountains who had birthday anniversaries during the month was held yesterday afternoon at the church in the guild room. The tables were decorated with flags, small tri-colored hatchets were used as place cards. A large birthday cake carried numerous candles, each child being presented with one as a souvenir. Sandwiches, cakes, doughnuts and home-made candies were served with hot chocolate. Games were enjoyed by the children. The honorees, Rosemary Cleaves, Marie Caskey and Warren Staples, received appropriate gifts from the guild room. The corner of Michigan and Rosemont avenues.

Others who appeared in costume were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Young, Mrs. Elderkin, Mr. and Mrs. LaForte, Virgil Drenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Arbogast, Captain and Mrs. France, Mrs. Pratt, Miss Richardson, Mrs. Beni, Miss Louise Bailly, Mrs. Shearin, Miss Fannie Bail, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Elberhart, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Winette, Mrs. Drenberg, Mr. Breckinridge, Mr. and Mrs. Huff, Mrs. Cruzan, Mr. and Mrs. Knopf.

Immediately after dinner a program was given, with the following artists: Virgil Drenberg, greet-ings, "My Days," Judge Cruzan; piano solo, Mrs. Elberhart; reading, Mrs. Young; duet, Mrs. Elderkin and Mr. LaForte; address, Rev. F. E. Knopf.

The Christian Scientists and others are looking forward to another lecture by an able speaker in the person of Judge Samuel W. Greene, C. S., of Louisville, Ky., said to be one of the best lecturers sent out by the Mother Church of Boston. The date is February 26, at the Women's clubhouse.

AT VERDUGO CITY
VERDUGO CITY, Feb. 21.—Verdugo City association of commerce will give the last of the series of three prize dances tonight in the Fowler building at the corner of Honolulu and Los Angeles avenues. This dance, which is to raise money for the benefit of the flag pole, will have appropriate favors for Washington's birthday. Women will serve refreshments. Prizes for the best slogan for Verdugo City and for the nearest guess of the number of patrons attending the three association dances will be given. Five dollars each will be awarded the best answer to each question. Judges will be five members of the association of commerce. Music will be furnished by Floyd's Scotch orchestra of Glendale.

The local branch of the Western Building and Loan association of Salt Lake will open offices on Monday morning in suite three of the Fowler building.

Taylor Realty Co. of Montrose has fitted out an office in the Fowler building and will be open for business Monday.

Negotiations for a reputable business to occupy the centre store of the ground floor are under way. A Glendale firm is reported to be interested.

George Hansen is recovering from his recent attack of the grip.

Children of the La Crescenta school are wearing arm bands to remind taxpayers of their duty at the polls on Tuesday when the election for the local bonds will be held in the schoolhouse on Los Angeles avenue.

To have adequate space in the schools next year for the increasing number of pupils, these bonds must carry. Some of the children are attending on half-day sessions now and more will be obliged to do so next year if a favorable vote is not cast, it is said.

NEW YORK CLOSING
By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Buying of railroad stocks featured the market in the short session today. A few of the oil shares and specialty stocks also participated in the continuation of the forward price movement but the railroad stocks dominated the market and buying was in unusually large volume for a short pre-holiday market.

Rumors were revived of the pending merger of Southwestern railroads into a gigantic system of 16,000 miles and including the Frisco system, Katy and other lines in that territory. Market gossip also left no doubt as to the taking over of the Rock Island by the Southern Pacific. Kansas City Southern joined the active rail list and reached a new high at 40. Rock Island was bought in large blocks at higher prices than in Friday's trading, recording a new high at 53; Frisco common, New Haven, St. Louis-Southwestern and New York Central sold in large volume.

The oil stocks made no new response to the raising of the dividend on Pan-American to six per cent annually. Pan-American gained about a point in the first

'Nick' Longworth Leads In Speakership Fight

Mr. Harding tried to reward Mr. Longworth by giving him his entire support for the leadership of the House. If Mr. Harding were alive today, he would be attempting further to repay Nick by backing him for speaker.

In any event, Nick is something of a burnt child, politically speaking, and he would not think of withdrawing from the speakership race to get a clear field two years from now.

He feels he has the fight as good as won, and, anyway, who knows whether the Republicans might not have to reckon with the Democrats two years from now?

Proud in a new sense of possession, Nick has hitched his wagon to the speakership star, and expects to clatter comelike into the presiding officer's chair just as soon as the caucus gets under way.

The anti-suffragists in the House—and a few of them still linger—may turn against Nick because it wasn't a boy. Maybe Nick is a bit disappointed, too, for he and Princess Alice seem to have had their hearts set upon the name Paul. They have done the next best thing and named little "jink toes" Paulina.

PLAN PATRIOTIC SERVICE SUNDAY

Congregational Church Will Be Scene of Gathering
Tomorrow Afternoon

In keeping with the patriotic spirit of their organization, Daughters of the American Revolution, General Richard Gridley chapter of Glendale, are to sponsor a 4 o'clock vesper service tomorrow afternoon at First Congregational church, in commemoration of the anniversary of the birthday of George Washington. Invitations have been sent to members of all local patriotic organizations, to Boy and Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, other organizations, and to the public to attend.

Members of the D. A. R. chapter will attend in a body, and other patriotic organizations are planning to do likewise. The order of the service will be: Organ prelude, "Prelude" (Dubois); Miss Lilla Litch; reading of the ritual of General Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R.; singing of "Mount Vernon Bells," Mrs. J. H. Burris; memorial address, Rev. C. M. Calderwood; singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," Mrs. Burris; Washington's prayer for the United States, Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of Central Christian church; organ number, "America Triumphant" (Dunn); Miss Litch.

LOCAL STUDENTS IN COURT FINALS

Glendadians At University of Redlands Are High
In Casaba Tourney

REDLANDS, Feb. 21.—The Glendale basketball team, one of the eight entries in the indoor contests at the University of Redlands, has won its way to the finals of these contests, by defeating the team composed of students whose homes are in Redlands.

Loren Greene, of Inglewood, played with the Glendale casaba tossers, and was high point man. Other Glendale basketball players were Loren Scoville, Frank Lee, Francis Brown, Cecil Dotts and Harry Yochem.

Much enthusiasm has been aroused over the intra-mural games, which have been inaugurated this year by Coach Cushman, for the purpose of arousing a larger interest in athletics, and giving athletic training to a large number of students who would not be able to make the varsity or freshman teams.

One of the best-advertised teams in the intra-mural contest was that put forward by the faculty. However, the pedagogues were eliminated by the fast San Joaquin valley tossers.

Poetic Tribute Paid Washington By Woman

Poetical tribute was paid the memory of George Washington by Agnes Henderson, subscriber to The Glendale Evening News, in the following lines:

TO GEORGE WASHINGTON
Who that walks on western soil
Owes not a thought to one of yore?
One who faced the Redman's ire
And shared the Pilgrim's great desire;
Whose living hand, wise and bold,
Fought with hunger, craft and cold;
Whose tender heart and manly grace,
Towered far above his kindred race,
Like a mountain tall that dwells in sky,
Reaches down to brooklet's cry;
Enfolded on its breast heedless forms,
Who bask in sun, sheltered from the storm.

A father large and great was he,
Who took a race upon his knee,
Whose kindly hand in care was spread
O'er the nation's future bread;
Who faced the treachery abroad and near,
Stood by his fellowmen with words of cheer;
Whose life Christ's precepts framed,
Like the beacon lights in history named.
Should we fail to lay aside our daily care
Long enough to offer grateful prayer
That God would send a soul so great
To preserve and lead our ship of state?

FATHER O'NEILL IS GREETED IN SOUTH

Founder of Glendale Catholic Church Takes Up Duties
In San Diego

San Diegans accorded Rev. James S. O'Neill, former parish priest of Glendale's Holy Family Catholic church, a rousing welcome last night upon his return to San Diego, where he served as assistant twenty years ago at St. Joseph's Catholic parish with the late Father Ubach, one of the best-known and beloved Catholic priests in California's history.

Father O'Neill, as he is intimately known by countless Glendadians, is to serve as pastor of Sacred Heart church, 4093 Copeland avenue, San Diego. After his service in San Diego, twenty years ago, he came to Glendale to organize the first Catholic church here. The beautiful Holy Family church and thriving church organization is tribute to his years of devoted work here. From Glendale he went to Oxnard and served two years as pastor of Santa Clara church. He was transferred to San Diego at his own request.

An account from The San Diego Union says: "Father O'Neill is one of the tallest ecclesiastics in America, standing six feet four inches in his stocking feet."

Galsworthy Play Will Be Given By College

John Galsworthy's "The Silver Box" will be presented by Lance and Lute, University of Southern California chapter of the National Collegiate Players, as their annual play. The production will be presented in Harvard auditorium during the third week in March. Genevieve Mulligan, 321 East Chestnut street, is a member of Lance and Lute, being very prominent in U. S. C. dramatics.

Miss Florence Hubbard of the school of speech will direct the play, and will select the cast entirely from members of the dramatic fraternity, membership in which is restricted to students who do exceptional work in dramatics.
